In Commissioner McGann's letter to the BLM requesting consideration of closing Sand Flats trails at night, please consider permitted outfitters need to be allowed time to return from sunset tours. TITLE:	Approving resolution to consider tax relief for applicants making up to 120% of the income limit.
FISCAL IMPACT:	Estimated maximum of $11,100

SUGGESTED MOTION:
I move to approve the resolution to consider tax relief for applicants making up to 120% of the income limit.

BACKGROUND:
Last year, some Commission members expressed an interest in helping tax relief applicants who were just over the household income limit set by the State. Consequently, I drafted a resolution expressing the Commission’s intent to consider tax relief for applicants making 120% of the limit. 120% was picked because it seemed reasonable and was close to a failed limit increase proposed during this year’s legislative session.

If this resolution passes, applications that exceed the State limit but do not exceed 120% of that limit, will be brought to the Commission for consideration of tax relief. The tax relief considered will be the same as the Indigent Abatement, which this year will be half of the taxes due or $1,110, whichever is less. Just like the Indigent Abatement, providing this relief would be entirely up to the discretion of the Commission each year.

In addition to the being below 120% of the State's limit, applicants would need to meet all of the other criteria for the Indigent Abatement. These include; being at least age 65 or disabled or experiencing an extreme hardship, residing in your home at least 10 months of the year and being a US citizen or legally present in the US.

Had this resolution been in place last year, it would have affected 1 out of the 4 applications that were denied for being over income. However, there are certainly applications that were never submitted because they knew they would be over income. I estimate a maximum of 10 households would benefit from this resolution annually, with a total tax relief amount of $11,110. Like most other tax relief, this would slightly depress the collection rate and result in minimally higher taxes for other tax payers. The total tax relief in 2021 was $273,740, so I estimate this resolution resulting in an increase of about 4% of the overall total.

GRAND COUNTY, UTAH

RESOLUTION NO. _____ (2022)

WHEREAS, housing costs in Grand County have been rising steeply in recent years;¹

WHEREAS, the Grand County Commission (“County Commission”) desires to help qualifying low-income households afford their housing through property tax relief;

WHEREAS, the County Commission is given authority to provide tax relief in § Utah Code 59-2-1347 which states in part: “If any interested person applies to the county legislative body for an adjustment or deferral of taxes levied against property assessed by the county assessor, a sum less than the full amount due may be accepted, or the full amount may be deferred, where, in the judgment of the county legislative body, the best human interests and the interests of the state and the county are served;”

WHEREAS, the State of Utah annually sets a household income limit for tax relief in accordance with Utah Code § 59-2-1208 and referred to hereafter as the “Tax Relief Income Limit,” which is $35,807 in 2022;

WHEREAS, in addition to meeting the income requirement, in order to be a qualifying household for the Indigent Abatement, taxpayers must also be either elderly, disabled or experiencing an extreme hardship;

WHEREAS, the Utah Legislature introduced House Bill 401 in the 2022 General Session, which would have raised the tax relief income limit by about 27% to $45,807, but failed to pass it;

WHEREAS, the Grand County Commission is interested in offering additional tax relief for qualifying households making 20% more than the tax relief income limit, or $42,968 in 2022, who may still have difficulty affording their housing;

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the Grand County Commission that:

1. The Grand County Commission hereby expresses its intent to exercise its authority to provide tax relief to applicants with a gross household income equal to or less than 120% of the Tax Relief Income Limit (“Eligible Applicants”).

2. To receive this tax relief, Eligible Applicants shall submit an application as described in Utah Code § 59-2-1804 for the Commission’s review and decision, which shall be entirely at the discretion of the Grand County Commission.

3. Tax relief hereunder, if granted, shall be in the form of a tax cancellation and in the same amounts as the Indigent Abatement defined in Utah Code § 59-2-1803 and 1804, which amount totals half of the taxes due or $1,110, whichever is less, in 2022.

¹ Per the Utah Association of Realtors, the median home listing price was $792,000 in June 2022, trending up 85.5% year-over-year, and the median home sales price as of May 2022 is $694,000, which is unattainable by the annual household median income in Grand County of $52,000.

SUGGESTED MOTION:

I move to approve relief for property tax for 2021 for parcel 02-OSWA-0008 in the amount of $_____.

BACKGROUND:

1. Which parcel(s) are you requesting forgiveness for?
Parcel 02-OSWA-0008
2. What tax years are you requesting forgiveness for?
2021
3. Are you requesting forgiveness for the tax or just for the penalty and interest?
There were no penalties or interest for 2021.
4. What are the reason(s) that you are requesting forgiveness?
Fixed income (social security. Cecelia is making payments but struggling given property tax increases with not enough increase in social security to compensate.

Additional information from the County Treasurer's Office
Cecelia Showalter, the owner of parcel 02-OSWA-0008 contacted the Treasurer's Office earlier this year because her mortgage payments had increased substantially. Ms. Showalter had been applying for and receiving tax relief for since 2015. However, in 2021 she did not submit an application. The Treasurer's Office mailed an application to her in May of 2021 and made several phone calls to remind her of the need to apply. Ms. Showalter stated that she may remember a phone call but that she forgot to apply and has been having difficulty remembering things. Because there was no application for tax relief and values in Spanish Valley increased in 2021, Ms. Showalter's taxes increased from $205.00 in 2020 to $1,998.92 in 2021. Ms. Showalter's mortgage company paid the 2021 taxes on time and then increased her mortgage escrow payments to cover the 2021 taxes and to build up the escrow to pay the anticipated 2022 taxes.

Ms. Showalter has already applied and qualified for tax relief for 2022. I have sent an estimated 2022 tax amount to the mortgage company in an attempt to convince them to reduce her escrow payment. It seems doubtful that this will be successful. Some of Ms. Showalter's escrow payments should be refunded to her when her escrow account is re-evaluated after the 2022 taxes are paid which will include the tax relief. However, the amount needed to cover the 2021 taxes will not be refunded.

Ms. Showalter explained that the new higher mortgage payment is unsustainable for her and she is concerned about being able to remain in her home. Sadly, we are not able to accept tax relief applications after the end of the year. However, the County Commission is able to grant tax relief at any time and for any reason they see fit. I advised Ms. Showalter of the option of applying to the County Commission for tax relief. If the Commission grants tax relief for 2021, it would result in a refund payment to Ms. Showalter because the taxes have already been paid.

One option that the Commission could consider is to grant $1,082.16 in tax relief which is the amount that would have been abated if Ms. Showalter had applied in 2021. This relief is a lower percentage of the total tax than in prior years because the Assessor's Office has determined that the building on the property is a duplex with two primary residences. Tax relief can only be applied to one residence. Ms. Showalter states that a relative is living in one side of the duplex.

If tax relief is granted, the cost would be borne by the taxing entities. It will not increase taxes on any other tax payers because it is not for the current year and won't impact the collection rate.

TITLE:	Fiscal Incentive Grant (FIG) for Expansion of Trail Ambassador Program
FISCAL IMPACT:	Grant match existing in 2022 budget. Funds for reimbursable grant purchases needed in 2022 budget.
PRESENTER(S):	Madeline Logowitz, Director, Active Transportation & Trails Anna Sprout, Responsible Recreation Program Coordinator, Active Transportation & Trails

Prepared By:

FOR OFFICE USE ONLY:

N/A

RECOMMENDATION:

I move to approve the grant State OHV Fiscal Incentive Grant (FIG) application with a match amount as approved by the Commission.

BACKGROUND:

Grand County Active Transportation & Trails (GCATT), in collaboration with several partners, has developed a Trail Ambassador Program to educate non-motorized recreation groups at popular trails and trailheads. To date in 2022, between 2-4 Ambassadors have encountered close to 30,000 members of the public and delivered a pre-defined educational program to 18,000 of that number (approximately 60%).

The FIG program provides funding for a variety of projects focused on OHV trail users, including educational programs. GCATT would like to match existing funds for responsible recreation programming with the FIG program to expand the existing Trail Ambassador program to include the OHV community on motorized trails and trailheads. Development for this new program would be done in collaboration with local motorized groups, land managers, and other local stakeholders.

Just like the non-motorized Trail Ambassador program, the educational objectives of this new branch of the program would be to teach trail users about:

1. How to protect yourself on the trail (safety considerations, how to be prepared for the desert environment)
2. How to protect the environment (minimum impact practices specific to this area, such as the importance of staying on the trail due to biocrust and how to properly dispose of human waste)
3. How to respect others on the trail (trail etiquette such as yielding practices)

ATTACHMENT(S):

1. Draft text and figures for application

Grant Abstract:

Annual visitation to the Moab area has doubled in the last decade, and this number continues to grow. Education about minimum impact behaviors in the desert environment is crucial to maintaining the trails, the landscape, and a sustainable economy based on outdoor recreation.

Grand County has established a successful Trail Ambassador program for non-motorized user groups that is tailored to local issues and, with support from local partners, seeks support to expand the program to include the growing OHV community. Trail Ambassadors positions are paid, part-time positions for individuals with a background in OHV recreation and a knowledge of local trails that educate the public at popular trails and trailheads and provide “preventative SAR” services to improve trail safety.

Goals of the program are to teach trail users:

1. How to protect themselves in the environment (how to prepare for the climate, choose a route that is suited to their experience level)
2. How to protect the environment (the importance of staying on the trail in an ecosystem that has biocrust, as well as other issues specific to the trail such as how to protect cultural sites if present, etc)
3. How to respect others on the trail (trail etiquette such as right-of-ways and yielding, how to appropriately share the trail, etc)

Grant funding requests:

- 2 part-time motorized Trail Ambassadors
- Content development for motorized educational materials
- Trail Ambassador station materials, such as EZ UP tents, uniforms, SPOT Devices, etc.
- One or two vehicles (dependent on the amount available to commit as a match) that are capable of travel on beginner and intermediate (below Level 5) 4x4 trails in the area.

Trailheads/trail locations TBD

This grant opportunity is the first of many steps to expand the Trail Ambassador program to include motorized trails. Collaboration and input from local groups, stakeholders, and land management agencies is necessary to develop a successful new program that is tailored towards the user groups.

SUGGESTED MOTION:

I move to adopt the ordinance enacting a temporary land use regulation prohibiting the erection, construction, reconstruction, or alteration of any building or structure or any subdivision approval requiring new water connections within the Thompson Special Service District Boundary, to be effective August 1, 2022.

BACKGROUND:

The Thompson Special Service District has completed its water study regarding the sufficiency of its source capacity, which study found a 40% water deficit.

The SSD is currently seeking permission from the BLM to develop a new spring on federal land. In addition, the SSD is seeking to purchase new water rights in the area, but no such transactions have occurred to date. And TSSD and the Utah Division of Water Rights and Division of Drinking Water are working together to potentially resolve some issues with existing SSD water rights, which will decrease the deficit. However, these processes are expected to take at least 6 more months to finalize/resolve, per BLM communications on June 9, 2022 and the TSSD on July 7, 2022. For these reasons, the related parties have been supportive of a moratorium on new construction or development until the SSD can demonstrate sufficient source capacity.

Similarly, the Grand County LUC requires an applicant prove statutorily compliant water availability before a building permit or subdivision application may be approved. And while hauling water from a GWSSA or City of Moab load-out is technically viable, this is not a long-term solution on which new development should rely (and they may not survive the Colorado River compact renegotiation).

The intent of this Temporary Land Use Regulation is to suspend construction and land use application processing until the TSSD's source capacity is deemed sufficient to legally and responsibly approve subdivision and other land use applications.

Note that Utah Code § 17-27a-504(2) requires we limit the effect of the Ordinance to six months. We may terminate it earlier if the source capacity issues have been addressed, or we may adopt another later Ordinance if they are not.

A TEMPORARY LAND USE REGULATION PROHIBITING THE ERECTION,

WHEREAS, Utah Code § 17-27a-504 (1)(a) of the Utah Code authorizes Grand County to enact a temporary land use ordinance, establishing a temporary land use regulation for any part or all of the area within the county if the legislative body makes a finding of compelling, countervailing public interest;

WHEREAS, Utah Code § 17-27a-504 (1)(b) authorizes the prohibition or regulation of the erection, construction, reconstruction, or alteration of any building or structure or any subdivision approval, which regulation shall be temporary but is not expressly limited by time so long as compelling, countervailing public interest continues to justify it;

WHEREAS, the previously named Grand County Council (“County Council”) adopted the Grand County General Plan Update (“General Plan”) on February 7, 2012 with Resolution No. 2976;

WHEREAS, the County Council adopted the Grand County Land Use Code (“LUC”) on January 4, 1999 with Ordinance No. 299, as amended, for the purpose of regulating land use, subdivision and development in Grand County in accordance with the General Plan;

WHEREAS, from time to time the County adopts ordinances to modify the LUC and General Plan so they align with current and future infrastructure capacity;

WHEREAS, the General Plan in chapter 3, vision 3.2 Ecology, Water and Air, in goal 2 states: support efforts to understand water quantity and quality dynamics of the Glen Canyon, Spanish Valley fill, Castle Valley and Thompson aquifers;

WHEREAS, pending a water study to evaluate the source capacity and compliance with State requirements of the Thompson Special Service District (the “SSD”), the Commission adopted Ordinance No. 640 on August 3, 2021 imposing a six-month moratorium prohibiting construction, subdivision approval, and other development within the Thompson SSD Boundary;

WHEREAS, due to the completed water study by Sunrise Engineering which found, in conformance with Utah drinking water rules and regulations, a 40% water deficit in the SSD’s water supply, the Commission adopted Ordinance No. 655 on February 1, 2022 imposing a six-month moratorium prohibiting construction, subdivision approval, and other development within the Thompson SSD Boundary;

WHEREAS, the SSD has submitted a permit application to the Bureau of Land Management (“BLM”) in August 2020 to develop an additional spring on federal land, as modified in February and November 2021 upon request of the BLM, which agency is still reviewing the application for completeness before proceeding with an environmental assessment, an approximately six-month process;

WHEREAS, the SSD is also seeking to purchase additional water rights, but no such transactions have occurred;

WHEREAS, the SSD also intends to work with the Utah Division of Water Rights, Utah Division of Drinking Water, and the Utah Division of Environmental Quality to address issues with one of its existing water rights and assumptions used in the Sunrise Engineering report to potentially reduce its paper water deficit but the SSD has not yet made progress with these state agencies;

WHEREAS, the SSD, BLM, and the State of Utah anticipate such new source permitting/development and additional water rights analysis may take up to an additional six (6) months or more;

WHEREAS, there remains a number of pending and potential subdivision and building permit applications for property within the SSD that requires water availability and services under local and state law; and

WHEREAS, for the reasons articulated above, the Grand County Commission finds that compelling, countervailing public interests justify prohibiting the erection, construction, reconstruction, or alteration of any building or structure or any subdivision approval within the boundaries of the Thompson Springs Water District;

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT ORDAINED that the Grand County Commission hereby:

1. Finds that compelling, countervailing public interest justifies this temporary land use regulation for the reasons stated above;
2. Prohibits temporarily the erection, construction, reconstruction, or alteration of any building or structure or any subdivision approval requiring new water connections within the boundary of the Thompson Special Service District, as identified in Exhibit A; and
3. This temporary land use regulation shall begin August 1, 2022 and remain in effect until the County, in coordination with its referral agencies, determines that the SSD has developed sufficient additional source capacity to justify the termination of this regulation; provided, however, that the duration of this temporary land use regulation shall not exceed six (6) months.

To preserve the peace and health of the County, its residents, and its visitors, this Ordinance shall take effect immediately upon publication in the Times Independent, pursuant to State law.

In addition to forfeiture of the Security Deposit, nothing in this provision or this Agreement shall prevent County from pursuing other legal remedies to seek relief or compensation for damages above and beyond the amount of the Security Deposit.

Termination

Either party may terminate this Agreement by providing written notice 30 days in advance of the termination date. Notice is effective upon receipt. In all cases the County may terminate this agreement in fewer days specified herein when the County is notified that the event for which the facility is rented for will violate or may likely violate any city, county, state, or federal law.

Termination by Damage Not the Fault of Renter

Upon prior written notice of twenty-four (24) hours, effective upon receipt, County may terminate this Agreement and retake exclusive possession of the Property if fire, natural causes or disaster, or a previous renter destroys the Property to the extent that it may no longer be used for its purpose, in which case, County shall return to Renter the Security Deposit and all unused rental fees, calculated on a prorated daily basis.

Rainfall, even from days prior, may increase trail ratings 1 or 2 points. When in doubt, ask a Jeep Jamboree Trail Guide for guidance. Weather Conditions

Weather conditions can be dynamic at a Jeep Jamboree. We recommend you look at a 10-day forecast of weather conditions at weather.com or a similar site. Be sure to check the weather for all areas listed in the itinerary as different locations may have very different temperatures.

Trail Descriptions (1 of 2)

Please keep in mind that trail options can change at the last minute. The trails listed are possible choices but are not guaranteed.

Buttes and Towers • Rated 3

This beautiful trail visits the scenic Courthouse Pasture area northwest of Moab to provide participants with a relaxing, moderate 4 wheeling experience along with picturesque views and vistas of the beautiful reddish Entrada rock formations that are plentiful in this area. The La Sal Mountain peaks serve as a backdrop. There are many old trails in this area and this trip combines segments of them to create a pleasant and varied experience.

Fins and Things • Rated 4–5

This is a thrilling drive of steep climbs and heart-pounding descents with the La Sal Mountains providing a beautiful backdrop. Part one, on the south side of Sand Flats Road, is very scenic and steep but the fins are less dramatic. Part two, on the north side, starts gradually but ends with a rollercoaster ride you'll never forget. Dominated by undulating slick rock with intervals of soft sand and a few rocky sections.

7 Mile Rim • Rated 4–5

Many beautiful overlooks and interesting rock formations including Corral Canyon, Monitor and Merrimac Buttes, Determination Towers, Uranium Arch, and Courthouse Rock. The drive itself is interesting as the terrain changes from slick rock to sagebrush to wash bottom. Most of the trail is moderate with just a few difficult spots. Some stock vehicles with very high ground clearance and good articulation can manage this trail. A tough section down to Uranium Arch can be avoided by simply viewing the arch from above. One spot near Merrimac Butte tilts sideways to an extreme degree. The trail can be made much more difficult by driving optional Wipe Out Hill which requires lockers or a winch to get back up.

Tiptoe Through Hell's Revenge—Rating 5

The trail is as beautiful as it is confusing. It has a high vantage point with beautiful views of the La Sal Mountains and Negro Bill Canyon to the east and, from the overlook, the Colorado River. The area is also known for the Slickrock Bike Trail which draws avid bikers from all over the world. The biking trail, which is marked with painted white dashed lines crosses the 4-wheel trail several times. Be very careful at the crossing points. Always be courteous and friendly. There are numerous steep climbs and descents over sandstone domes and ledges. Excellent traction enables vehicles to surmount inclines of incredible steepness. Several tippy spots will test the leaning ability of most vehicles. We do not offer the following obstacles on the Jeep Jamboree: The Escalator, Hell's Gate, The Staircase, and The Devil's Hot tub. These obstacles are bypassed for safety and insurance reasons.

Metal Masher • Rated 5–8

Minimum of 32" stock Rubicon tires. Long wheel base Jeeps should have minimum 2" lift.

This trail features two well-known obstacles—Rock Chucker and Widow Maker. Rock Chucker is an optional side obstacle designed for extreme Jeeps. Widow Maker is somewhat easier that most Jeeps can get up. In addition to tough challenges, the scenery along the northwest ridgeline is outstanding. Many high rock ledges with tight maneuvering required in several places. While some of the most difficult obstacles can be bypassed, the remaining ones are still difficult. Vehicle modifications and lockers are recommended.

Flat Iron Mesa • Rated 5–8

Additional ground clearance required. Minimum of 33" tires and 2.5" lift. No stock JK's.

Flat Iron Mesa is a lesser-known but great hard-core trail. Besides a variety of very difficult obstacles, the trail offers some outstanding scenery across Flat Iron Mesa and along the rim of 800-ft.-deep Hatch Wash. Two obstacles on this trail need special mention. Tilt-a-Whirl turns you sideways on a steep hill, forcing you into an uncomfortable lean. Easter Egg Hill squeezes you through a narrow opening between two jagged rocks while negotiating a steep, challenging, rocky descent. Both Tilt-a-Whirl and Easter Egg Hill can be bypassed. Many other challenging obstacles remain, including a tight corner hundreds of feet above Coyote Canyon, a tributary of Hatch Wash. This trail is not recommended for stock vehicles. Lockers and/or excellent articulation are recommended.

Trail Descriptions (2 of 2)

Please keep in mind that trail options can change at the last minute. The trails listed are possible choices but are not guaranteed.

Steel Bender—Rating 6–7

An extremely popular biking trail so when bikers approach, pull over and let them pass. This is a very scenic trail through the Mill Creek drainage area. There are many rock challenges and four stream crossings (usually shallow). Though there are many portions of the trail that are nearly flat dirt road, most of the trail consists of rock climbs and descents over stairs and ledges. Don't let the trail's name intimidate you, it's a good Moab trail that is challenging but possible for a slightly modified 4x4 vehicle.

Poison Spider • Rated 6–7

Stock Jeeps should have lockers on axles. For open axle Jeeps a minimum of 33" tires & 2.5" lift are required.

This is one of the most popular trails in Moab and connects with two other trails Golden Spike and Gold Bar Rim. Poison Spider Mesa is a fun-filled combination of challenging obstacles and incredible scenery. The second half of the trail passes by impressive Little Arch on the way to an outstanding overlook of the entire Moab area. Mountain biking is extremely popular on this trail. Drive with caution and be courteous to bikers at all times.

This is a classic hard-core trail with many challenging obstacles including tight switchbacks, high irregular ledges, steep slick rock climbs, and several tippy spots. Vehicle modifications including differential lockers are highly recommended.

Cliff Hanger • Rated 6–8

A minimum of 33" tire for short WB and 35" tire for long WB—Usable Rock Rails/Sliders—No low hanging steps—Acceptance of scraping rails/skids/bumpers!—recovery points front and rearThe thing you'll remember most about this trail is not the incredible scenery, but a 4-foot high ledge across a narrow shelf road perched high on sheer canyon walls. Although just one obstacle of many, this one will get your undivided attention. This is a popular biking trail so use appropriate caution and courtesy. Pull over and let bikers pass if they approach you from behind. On a trail like this, they will often make better time than you. The trail starts downhill, crosses Kane Creek, then climbs rapidly up a very rocky, steep grade. Obstacles are tall, challenging, and frequent. The second half of the trail smooths out but not before crossing a challenging narrow road on a shelf about 400 feet high. This trail is not suitable for stock vehicles. Extra-high ground clearance and lockers are recommended.

Behind the Rocks • Rated 7–9

Minimum of 32" stock Rubicon tires. Long wheel base Jeeps should have minimum 2" lift.

This trail starts just south of the Behind the Rocks Wilderness Study Area. This particular WSA is completely closed to motorized travel to preserve its incredible beauty. This fantasy land of Navajo sandstone fins and domes is perhaps the most photographed area in Moab. Between difficult obstacles are stretches of easy terrain and unique arches. The trail concludes with a wild descent through remote Hunters Canyon—Behind the Rocks' most difficult obstacle—White Knuckle Hill. It's akin to driving off a series of small cliffs. Lockers and extra ground clearance are highly recommended.

Trail Rating System

Every Jamboree trail is rated from 1 (easiest) to 10 (the most difficult). These ratings are based on the overall trail, not just on one or two tough spots. Rain can increase ratings by one or two points. Please remember, all vehicles are subject to vehicle check prior to trail departure. Numerically higher rated Jamborees are more likely to result in vehicular damage.

- 1-2 Obstacles and terrain are relatively easy to navigate. In optimum weather conditions, some trails may not require continual use of four-wheel drive (4WD).
- 3-5 Moderately demanding. Challenge for novice drivers. Obstacles may include: mud holes, boulders, and streams. Requires 4WD with 4-LO.
- 6-7 Demanding. Challenge for most skill levels. Mud holes get deeper, boulders get larger, and climbs get steeper. Requires 4WD with 4-LO.
- 8-9 Very demanding. Likelihood of getting stuck is high. Mud holes may be deep and rock climbing is more arduous. Lifts and lockers are helpful. Requires 4WD with 4-LO.
- 10 Extremely demanding. Reserved for the toughest off-road trip in the U.S.A. – the Rubicon Trail.

Requires 4WD with 4-LO, front and rear lockers, skid plates, rock rails and an aftermarket rear differential cover.

Rubicon Trail Jeep Jamboree is limited to TJ, JK, JL and JT models only without prior approval. Jeep Renegade, Patriot, Compass, Liberty, Cherokee, Grand Cherokee, or Commanders are not allowed.

During registration you will have the opportunity to discuss the trails, your driving experience, and Jeep capabilities with the trail guides. The guides will work with you to select appropriate trails. Rain may increase trail ratings 1 or 2 points, especially with street tires.

Please Tread Lightly!

Travel responsibly on designated roads and trails or in permitted areas.

Respect the rights of others including private property owners and all recreational trail users, campers and others to allow them to enjoy their recreational activities undisturbed.

Educate yourself by obtaining travel maps and regulations from public agencies, planning for your trip, taking recreation skills classes, and knowing how to use and operate your equipment safely.

Avoid sensitive areas such as meadows, lakeshores, wetlands and streams, unless on designated routes. This protects wildlife habitat and sensitive soils from damage.

Do your part by leaving the area better than you found it, properly disposing of waste, minimizing the use of fire, avoiding the spread of invasive species, restoring degraded areas, and joining a local enthusiast organization.

A Note on Land Usage

Many Jeep Jamboree USA events are held on private lands with the consent of landowners, or on public lands through special use permits. In some cases, Jamboree trail groups are granted access to trail areas which are closed to all other vehicular access during the year.

Please be aware that access to these trail areas is allowed only by guided Jeep Jamboree USA groups during the scheduled Jeep Jamboree trail rides. Individual Jamboree guests returning later to drive in these areas on their own do so in violation of Jeep Jamboree USA's land use agreements and endanger future Jamboree usage of these restricted trails as well as being removed from the Jamboree without a refund.

Thank you for your cooperation in assuring Jamboree access to some of America's most spectacular backcountry.

Frequently Asked Questions

What are the requirements for my Jeep?

- Tow points are MANDATORY! Tow points may include:
 - Tow hooks properly mounted to the frame with grade six or grade eight bolts according to official Mopar installation procedures.
 - Draw bars and receiver hitches
 - Aftermarket bumpers with manufacturer installed clevis or D-ring anchor.If you do not have tow points, you may be turned away at registration without a refund.
- A GMRS radio is REQUIRED! There are many safety issues regarding upcoming obstacles transmitted over the radio by your trail guides. You will also learn interesting facts about the area - history, local plant and wildlife, as well as exciting stories.
- Participant Jeep tire size shall not exceed 40". If your tires exceed 40 inches, you will be turned away at registration, will not be allowed to attend the Jamboree, or receive a refund!
- Seat belts are required in all vehicles for all occupants.
- Snowplow frames are not allowed.
- We recommend removing running boards and steps (both factory and aftermarket) if you are planning to participate in higher rated trails.
- All open-topped vehicles, including older models (CJs, Scramblers and Willy's), are required to have roll bars.
- A tow strap with looped ends is recommended. Straps with metal hooks are not allowed.
- A full-size spare tire is mandatory!
- Your Jeep must be street legal including a license plate and proof of insurance.

Will my Jeep be going through water?

Some Jamborees may have water crossings and water holes. Many of these crossings and holes offer a bypass, if you decide to "go around". It is very important to watch and listen to your trail guide. When driving in deep water, go very slowly! If your engine gets wet and stalls, do not try to start it as you may cause serious engine damage. For additional tips on water crossings, please refer to your copy of Jeep Jamboree USA Off-Road Driving Tips, which is available for download at <https://link.jeeppjam.com/drivingtips>

May I bring my pet?

Bringing pets is strongly discouraged. If your pet must attend, you must submit a pet waiver during registration.

What should I bring?

- A basic tool kit, first aid kit and tire gauge are all highly recommended.
- An ice chest full of your favorite non-alcoholic beverages. It is important to stay hydrated!
- A full tank of gas prior to General Attendance Meeting as you will not have time to fuel up after the meeting.
- Trail snacks and a chair/blanket for the lunch stop.
- Flashlight, Camera, Binoculars
- Insect repellent, Sun Block, Medications, Hand Sanitizer
- Toilet paper and Zip-lock bags for tissue disposal
- Rain jacket and warm clothing.

What is the policy on alcohol, drugs, etc.?

No occupants of vehicle will possess or consume alcohol, non-prescription drugs, or be under the influence of any substance while on the trails. Doing so means immediate expulsion. Money will not be refunded, and those involved will be banned from all future Jeep Jamborees.

Name Badges

When you register on-site, you will be given one name badge per participant. Please wear your name badge while at the event as it is verification of your registration and helps everyone get to know each other.

Get connected with our Facebook Groups

Join one or more of the Jeep Jamboree discussion groups on Facebook. Ask questions, share information and photos before, during and after your great adventure.

Could my vehicle be damaged on a Jamboree?

Every effort is made by Jeep Jamboree USA to make the trails as safe as possible. You are advised to closely follow instructions given by Jeep Jamboree Trail Guides. There is the possibility of damage to your vehicle when traveling rough terrain. Any damage is the owner's responsibility. Jamborees with higher difficulty ratings are more likely to encounter terrain that may contribute to vehicular damage.

Are Jeep Jamborees safe?

Our trail guides are trained to put your safety first. If they ask you to refrain from any activity or to avoid specific trails or areas, you must follow their directions. Jeep Jamboree USA does not authorize or promote any night runs. You must wear your seat and shoulder belts. If a trail guide asks you to wear your seat belt and you do not comply, you removed from the Jeep Jamboree, money will not be refunded, and those involved will be banned from all future Jeep Jamborees.

GMRS Radio, Channel, and Frequency Info

If You Don't Have GMRS Radio Yet

- Your easiest and best option is to purchase one of the recommended Midland radios. These quality radios are easy to use and are available at <https://link.jeepjam.com/radios> and in limited supply at a Jeep Jamboree

Radio Differences and Frequencies

- In late 2017, the FCC set standards for FRS/GMRS channel numbers and frequencies. Any FCC approved radio manufactured after October of 2017 should match the channels in the chart and work for your Jeep Jamboree.

Frequencies and Power (See the reference chart to the right)

- FRS and GMRS use the same channels/frequencies. FRS (Family Radio Service) runs at lower power. GMRS (General Mobile Radio Service) runs at higher power.

Licensing

- Before operating a GMRS radio, you must have a valid license. Any radio using the shared FRS/GMRS frequencies that is able to transmit above 2 Watts of power is considered a GMRS radio and requires a license.

Why GMRS over FRS or CB?

- With FRS handhelds you may be able to hear others on the trail, but they may not hear you. GMRS has more power, meaning you can transmit farther.
- GMRS offers more reliability, usability, and quality over a CB radio.

Attorney Review:

SUGGESTED MOTION:

I move to approve the 2022 PGP Auto Show Special Event Permit under the currently approved special event Ordinance with the condition they provide proof of insurance.

BACKGROUND:

This will be the second annual year for the PGP Auto Show. This event will be for auto enthusiasts, with the goal of 100 car entries, and 1,000 participants. The car show is being sponsored by a local family ran business, with a group of local community members helping as volunteers. 2021 PGP Auto Show ran smoothly for OSTA staff with no issues concerning future events. The event holders ran a professional organized, clean event.

I ask that County Commission approve this event today with the following condition – The PGP Auto Show will provide proof of required insurance with approval of their event. The event holder currently has submitted a letter of intent for their insurance.

This will be the first year in Moab and for The Old Spanish Trail Arena to host The Moab Overland Expo. Moab Overland Experience is an adventure and lifestyle gathering of like-minded owners and industry professionals all with a passion for the great outdoors. This event will be a four-day camping based expo at OSTA with scheduled workshops based for the overland lifestyle. The event holder will also be offering camping onsite at OSTA. There will be no organized trails for this event. The event will be based at OSTA.

I have received a majority approval from the Special Event Committee and the Referral Agencies with Josie Kovash abstain from comment, and Christina Sloan withholding for preliminary matter.

I would like to request that The County Commission approve the Special Event permit for the 2022 Moab Overland Expo on the following conditions: Receipt of Special event sales tax license, and 2022 being a probationary year to see how the event affects the Grand County community for a reoccurring event in the future.

RECITALS

WHEREAS, SUBDIVIDER owns real property located in Grand County, Utah particularly described in Exhibit A, attached hereto and incorporated herein;

WHEREAS, COUNTY approved the Final Plat on July 19, 2022 (the “Plat”) for the ALL AMERICAN ACRES SUBDIVISION, LOT 5 AMENDED Subdivision, a residential subdivision of four Lots (“the Subdivision”), subject to the terms and conditions noted on the Plat and in the related Grand County Resolution approving the Subdivision and this Agreement;

WHEREAS, the COUNTY and SUBDIVIDER mutually acknowledge that the matters set forth herein are reasonable conditions and requirements to be imposed by COUNTY in connection with its approval of the Plat, and that such matters are necessary to protect, promote and enhance the public health, safety, and welfare.

1. IMPROVEMENTS. SUBDIVIDER agrees to construct the “Required Improvements” as specified in the final construction plans prepared by SET ENGINEERING, which were submitted and approved with the Plat application for the Property on April 27th, 2022, as amended and updated (the “Plans”) and as provided herein. An estimate of the cost of the Required Improvements is itemized on Exhibit B, attached hereto and incorporated herein by this reference (the “Cost Estimate”). “Construction” and “installation” may be used interchangeably herein.
2. DEVELOPMENT REQUIREMENTS. SUBDIVIDER shall develop the Property, pursuant to the Plat, this Agreement, the Code, the Construction Standards, and all other applicable laws, rules and regulation under the regulatory supervision of the COUNTY. Except as otherwise specified herein, if any such authorities are in conflict, the terms of this Agreement shall supersede and control the terms of development; provided, however, that the Plat shall supersede and control over the terms of any other authority.

3. UTILITIES. SUBDIVIDER shall install and bury underground all water and sewer mains, service stub-outs, stormwater drainage facilities, and electrical, natural gas, telephone and cable television lines shown in the Plans prior to construction of any overlaying street, curb, sidewalk, pedestrian/bicycle path or gutter to prevent unnecessary pavement cuts. In addition, SUBDIVIDER shall provide an as-built survey of such utilities prepared by a professional land surveyor showing horizontal and vertical locations. The COUNTY shall receive a copy of such survey prior to any backfill as a condition precedent to releasing the construction performance bond.
4. CONSTRUCTION AND INSPECTION. The Required Improvements shall be constructed and inspected as follows:
 - a. Notice of Commencement. SUBDIVIDER shall provide the COUNTY with one (1) week's advanced notice of commencement of construction of the Required Improvements, which notice shall describe the type of improvement being installed and the schedule for construction.
 - b. Construction Mitigation. SUBDIVIDER shall ensure that construction does not create a nuisance for surrounding property owners. As used herein, nuisance shall include dust, glare/light, and noise that is not confined to the boundaries of the property, as further regulated by Grand County Code.
 - i. Sand/Dirt. During construction, SUBDIVIDER shall use proper sand and dirt and erosion control to minimize impact on adjacent properties and maintain streets and roads in such a manner that they may be reasonably traveled upon. The COUNTY may order construction to cease or abatement measure be taken, and SUBDIVIDER shall comply with the same, when the COUNTY determines in its sole discretion that sand or dirt emanating from the Property related to construction activities is unacceptable.
 - ii. Noise. SUBDIVIDER shall confine the hours of construction operations to 7 am to 9 pm (and 9 am to 9 pm on Sunday), or as otherwise provided by the Grand County Code.
 - iii. Light/Glare. SUBDIVIDER shall comply with the requirements of Section 6.6 of the Grand County Code. Specifically, during construction, SUBDIVIDER shall fully shield all outdoor lighting, whether it be temporary for construction or permanent, and shall not place fixtures at a location, angle, or height that directs illumination outside the boundaries of the Property.
 - c. Inspection. The COUNTY may inspect the Requirement Improvements during regular business hours in its sole discretion, and no less frequently than requested by SUBDIVIDER. No excavation, facility or improvement shall be covered or buried until inspected by the COUNTY, unless such inspection is waived in writing.

- d. Notice of Violation. If the COUNTY determines that construction is not consistent with the Plans, the Code, the Construction Standards or any other applicable rules and regulations, the County shall provide SUBDIVIDER with written Notice of Violation and SUBDIVIDER shall immediately stop work until corrections are made.
- e. Notice of Failure. As soon as practical, SUBDIVIDER shall contact the COUNTY upon the failure of any performance testing, or of any issues that arise that may prevent construction from proceeding in accordance with the Plans.
- f. Final Acceptance. The COUNTY shall not approve a full release of the Improvements Collateral, as defined in Section 5, until the Required Improvements obtain final acceptance by the COUNTY pursuant to Section 9.5.5.D and E of the Code.

5. COLLATERAL.

Upon such request, the COUNTY shall inspect the Required Improvements, both those completed and unfinished. If the COUNTY determines from the inspection that the Required Improvements have been completed, as provided herein, the COUNTY shall release a corresponding portion of the Improvements Collateral within thirty (30) days of inspection. The release shall be made in writing signed by the COUNTY. The amount to be released shall be the amount of the remaining Improvements Collateral LESS one hundred and twenty-five percent (125%) of the cost of the unfinished Required Improvements; provided, however, that the Improvements Collateral shall not be released in full until SUBDIVIDER posts the Warranty Collateral required hereunder.

- c. Notice of Deficiency. If, upon inspection or otherwise, the COUNTY determines that SUBDIVIDER has violated its obligations hereunder, the COUNTY shall mail a written Notice of Deficiency to SUBDIVIDER requesting repairs within thirty (30) days; provided, however, that in the event of an emergency as determined in the COUNTY's sole discretion, an advanced Notice of Deficiency is not required.

6. TIMELINE. No later than twenty-four (24) months after the Effective Date, SUBDIVIDER shall complete the Required Improvements. The Required Improvements shall be deemed complete once the Required Improvements obtain final acceptance by the COUNTY pursuant to Section 9.5.5.D and E of the Code. If construction has not commenced within one year of the Effective Date, the COUNTY may, in its sole discretion, require resubmittal of the construction plans for review and compliance with current standards and engineering requirements. The COUNTY may also extend the deadlines in this Section 5 for good cause with a written amendment hereto signed by both Parties pursuant to Section 9.5.5.A(2) of the Code.
7. PUBLIC DEDICATION. SUBDIVIDER shall be responsible for the costs of construction, materials, and testing of all public Required Improvements within the Subdivision. The COUNTY shall not approve a full release of the Improvements Collateral until SUBDIVIDER conveys all public roads, streets, curbs, gutters, sidewalks, pedestrian paths, and drainage facilities, together with adequate easements and rights-of-way, free and clear of any liens and encumbrances to the COUNTY.
8. COUNTY EASEMENTS.
- a. Emergency Easement. SUBDIVIDER hereby grants to the COUNTY a perpetual right of access to, on and over all private roads within the Property for emergency purposes.
 - b. Temporary Easement. SUBDIVIDER hereby grants to the COUNTY a temporary, nonexclusive right of access to, on and over the Property for the purposes of constructing, maintaining, and repairing the Required Improvements during construction and through the Warranty Period.

9. WARRANTY. SUBDIVIDER hereby warrants the Required Improvements are free from defective workmanship or materials for a period of one (1) year after the Required Improvements obtain final acceptance by the COUNTY pursuant to Section 9.5.5.D and E of the Code, pursuant to the following:
- a. Warranty Collateral.  - b. Notice of Deficiency. If the COUNTY determines that the Required Improvements are defective during the Warranty period, which shall include revegetation of areas disturbed by SUBDIVIDER, the COUNTY shall mail a written Notice of Deficiency to SUBDIVIDER requesting repairs within thirty (30) days; provided, however, that in the event of an emergency as determined in the COUNTY's sole discretion, an advanced Notice of Deficiency is not required.
 - c. Repair by County. If SUBDIVIDER does not undertake such abatement measures or repairs as requested or in the event of an emergency, the COUNTY shall have the right but not the obligation to make the repairs at SUBDIVIDER's expense, in which event the COUNTY is not limited by the amount of the Collateral.
 - d. Release. The COUNTY shall release the Warranty Collateral within thirty (30) days of the expiration of the Warranty less any costs or expenses incurred by the COUNTY to repair defective workmanship or materials during the Warranty period.
10. BREACH. Upon breach by SUBDIVIDER of any obligation hereunder, the COUNTY hereby reserves all of its remedies under this Agreement, the Code, and Utah law, including the right to invoke Collateral, refuse to issue building permits, certificates of occupancy, or utility connections. Further, the COUNTY is entitled to reimbursement for all costs and expenses incurred to enforce this Agreement, including attorneys' fees and costs and as provided in Section 4 above. Any amounts due and owing by SUBDIVIDER to the COUNTY under this Agreement which are not paid in a timely manner may be certified to the Grand County Treasurer for collection with taxes.

In the event the COUNTY invokes Collateral, the proceeds shall be applied first to the COUNTY'S fees and expenses, including attorneys' fees, and then to completing or repairing the unfinished or defective Required Improvements. Excess Collateral proceeds, if any, are payable to SUBDIVIDER. The COUNTY has no obligation to utilize any funds, other than the Collateral proceeds, to complete any of the Required Improvements.

Re: All American Acres

Dear Dana:

I have reviewed the revised plan set dated April 26, 2022 for the proposed All American Acres Development for compliance with applicable state and local design standards.

The following are my comments on the provided information:

Water System:

The proposed development will include installation of an 8-inch water main extending to the end of the proposed street. The recommended configuration has been modeled using the Agency's computer hydraulic model of the system and was shown to have no significant impact on fire flow available to the surrounding area. Fire flow in the area is shown to be adequate.

Sewer System:

Sewer service for the proposed development will include an 8-inch sewer main. The drawings indicate sewer main construction at or above the minimum slope and noted no issues with the placement of the services or manholes.

We recommend approval of these plans. Please call if you have any questions or concerns.

Sincerely,

POSSIBLE MOTION:

I move to approve the proposed resolution to:

- 1) formally initiate proceedings to amend the Grand County Land Use Code (“LUC”), as specifically set forth in the resolution, to require new developments to provide a percentage of workforce housing (or fees in lieu); and
- 2) find that providing workforce housing is a compelling, countervailing public interest for the reasons described in the resolution and because market conditions are not supplying the needed numbers of workforce housing units for Grand County citizens; and
- 3) find that approving new development applications prior to such amendment of the LUC that do not include workforce housing (or fees in lieu) will jeopardize the County’s efforts to incentivize and/or require workforce housing.

BACKGROUND:

The Planning & Zoning department, along with the GCAO and Commission Admin office, have worked collaboratively over the past several months to craft this resolution in concert with the issuing of an RFP for a Housing Nexus Study to support an update to the land use code. This effort is intended to increase the supply of workforce housing for locals, strengthening the local economy and overall vitality of the community. The study will also provide strategies to increase incentives for the development of workforce housing units.

STAFF RECOMMENDATION: APPROVE

1. Proposed Resolution

GRAND COUNTY, UTAH
RESOLUTION NO. _____(2022)

INITIATING PROCEEDINGS TO AMEND THE GRAND COUNTY LAND USE CODE TO REQUIRE NEW DEVELOPMENTS TO PROVIDE A PERCENTAGE OF WORKFORCE HOUSING (OR FEES IN LIEU)

WHEREAS, Utah Code § 17-27a-102 enables a county to enact all ordinances, resolutions, and rules and various forms of land use controls and development agreements that the county considers necessary or appropriate for the use and development of land within the unincorporated area of the county;

WHEREAS, Utah Code § 17-27a-403 requires that local jurisdictions implement a General Plan update to include a moderate income housing element that provides a realistic opportunity to meet the need for additional moderate income housing within the next five years, selects three or more moderate income housing strategies described in Subsection (2)(b) for implementation, and includes an implementation plan;

WHEREAS, the previously named Grand County Council adopted the Grand County Land Use Code (“LUC”) on January 4, 1999 with Ordinance No. 299, as amended, for the purpose of regulating land use, subdivision and development in Grand County in accordance with the General Plan;

WHEREAS, from time to time the County adopts ordinances to modify its LUC and zoning map to improve the quality and order of land development and align the LUC with changing community conditions, public review noticing procedures, state law, contemporary planning concepts and streamlining land use reviews and permits;

WHEREAS, Utah Code § 17-27a-508 authorizes Grand County to formally initiate proceedings to amend the county’s land use regulations in a manner that would prohibit approval of an application upon a finding of a compelling, countervailing public interest that would be jeopardized by approving the application so long as no more than 180 days have passed since the County initiated such proceedings;

WHEREAS, the County adopted the 2017 Moab Area Affordable Housing Plan, and has collaborated with partner agencies to implement many of the Plan's recommendations, and the County is in the process of reviewing additional barriers to the development of workforce and affordable housing in the community;

WHEREAS, the County partnered with the City of Moab in 2018 to conduct the Moab Area Assured Housing economic feasibility report and economic nexus analysis which formed the basis for a LUC update, establishing Section 6.14 Affordable Housing and 6.15 Assured Housing sections of the code;

WHEREAS, the cost of housing has become increasingly unaffordable, as the median home listing price was $792,000 in June 2022, trending up 85.5% year-over-year¹, and the median home sales price as of May 2022 is $694,000², which is unattainable by the annual household median income of $52,000;

WHEREAS, of approximately 4,576 residential units in the County and City combined, 25% of those are second homes, and the market value of secondary residences is almost double the market value of primary residences, according to County Tax Assessor data;

WHEREAS, one of the most significant causes for the increase in the market value of homes in Grand County is the purchasing of second homes by non-locals or institutional investors who do not live or work in Grand County and can therefore afford to outbid the average local resident and drive up the market value of homes;

WHEREAS, the Grand County Planning & Zoning Department has received numerous applications or inquiries for rezones on property that would result in higher-finish market units, or homes for the secondary market that are unaffordable for the Grand County workforce;

WHEREAS, there are many parcels in Grand County that are underutilized and entitled through current zoning for subdivision and such properties are at risk of being sold to developers who intend to subdivide the land and sell market-rate units that are not attainable by our local workforce;

WHEREAS, out of 293 known rental units (excluding senior housing) in the Moab Valley, only seven (7) are currently available to rent, and out of those, five are 3-bedroom homes averaging a rental rate of $4,000/month, and currently there are at least 50 residents on waitlists for various apartment complexes³;

WHEREAS, the supply of rental units available for workforce housing are at an all-time low;

WHEREAS, the Moab Valley Multicultural Center reports the number of people they serve

² Utah Association of Realtors. Local Market Updates by County. (May 2022)

³ Moabhousing.com and Zillow

who meet HUD homeless program definitions for homelessness diversion, emergency shelter, homelessness prevention, rapid re-housing, and drop-in services is 165 adults and 98 children YTD;

WHEREAS, the lack of attainable housing can result in homelessness, undesirable living conditions, lack of funds available for other basic needs, and a decrease in the quality of life for Grand County workers and their families;

WHEREAS, according to a survey conducted by the Grand County Economic Development Department in 2021, 82% of employers reported the lack of attainable housing limited their ability to fully staff their company, and 65% reported having lost employees due to the housing shortage⁴;

WHEREAS, many employers in Grand County are unable to hire and retain employees because of the lack of attainable workforce housing;

WHEREAS, the County has initiated an update to the Assured Housing Economic Nexus Analysis to study the nexus between new development and increased demand for workforce housing;

WHEREAS, this process is one of many strategies being considered by the County to address the community's workforce housing and affordable housing needs; and

WHEREAS, the County is actively pursuing programs to incentivize the provision of affordable housing and workforce housing by partnering with various County departments and local organizations, such as the Grand County Economic Development Department, the Housing Authority of Southeast Utah, and the Moab Area Community Land Trust;

NOW, THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the Grand County Commission hereby:

- 1) formally initiate proceedings to amend Articles 6, 7, and 9 of the Grand County Land Use Code ("LUC"), including but not limited to: LUC Article 7 Subdivision Standards, Section 6.14 Affordable Housing, Section 6.15 Assured Housing, Section 9.2 Text and Zoning Map Amendments, Section 9.16 Site Plan Review to require workforce housing (or fees in lieu) for all new developments with some exceptions; and
- 2) find that incentivizing and/or requiring a percentage of workforce housing is a compelling, countervailing public interest for the reasons described in the resolution and because market conditions are not supplying the needed numbers of workforce housing units for Grand County citizens; and

⁴ Grand County Economic Development Department, Moab Area Employee Housing Survey (2021)

3) find that approving new development applications that do not include workforce housing (or fees in lieu) prior to such amendment of the LUC will jeopardize the County's efforts to incentivize and/or require workforce housing.

Event Type	Other
Other, please describe	MOTORCYCLE RALLY RAID (Street legal Enduro motorcycle)

A non - speed competitive event that is primarily based on navigation, rider endurance, machine reliability and rider skill for riding different types of terrain, navigation skill set being the primary focus of each rider.

Brief Description of Event

Our event follows all county, federal, municipal and state laws, ordinances, regulations, codes and the uniform traffic code for the states of Colorado and Utah. We had our first inaugural rally September 2021 after getting approvals from the following counties; Delta, Colorado, Mesa, Colorado, Montrose, Colorado, San Juan, Utah, and Grand, Utah. Along with the municipalities that lay within those counties that our rally goes through where the competitors refuel their motorcycles and and spend the night. The rally will start and end in Montrose, Colorado at the Fairgrounds and is a five day event which is over 700 miles. Every motorcycle has a satellite tracking device on it for compliance, oversight and scoring and messaging of each competitor to make sure they stay on course and obey all traffic laws , with heavy time penalties if they violate a stop or speed limit and they know and agree that they can be held civilly liable by the organization on top of the criminal penalties if they act in a careless or reckless manner. Each competitor will have a one minute or two minute separation in the start order for safety and to keep from group riding so as not to impact the quality of life of the residence that live in the municipalities that they ride through. Every competitor will have a Red Cross First Aid Card, first aid kit, Garmin Inreach satellite communicator, GPS, satellite phone, Colorado and Utah search and rescue cards along with other items. The staff / volunteers will have Red Cross First Aid cards, first aid kits, satellite phones, Garmin Inreach satellite communicators, search and rescue cards for Colorado and Utah. We will be arriving in Grand Counties Jurisdiction on September 13, 2022 at an unknown time when the staff / volunteers arrive and when the first competitor arrives. We will be leaving Grand County on September 14, 2022 at an unknown time when the last competitor and staff / volunteers leave. We have Permits to operate on federal lands from the Bureau of Land Management and the U.S. Forest Service. We provide competitors support and recovery of each rider and their motorcycles if they have a maintenance issue or if they get injured and their motorcycle needs recovery. We also have live satellite tracking of each competitor and support staff / volunteers via our safety officer who watches them via computer and communicates with them. He is located at the Montrose County Fairgrounds via our command center and coordinates with EMS and LE if there is and issue to where someone needs medical assistants even if they are not part of our event under the Good Samaritan Act. Our events are a non-spectator sport, the routes are secret and proprietary for our events except for review by overseeing government agencies. The competitors navigate the route via map known as a roadbook. The complete route and speed limits along with stops are downloaded into each satellite tracking unit after the complete route has been verified by our organization and if there is a change in traffic compliance they must follow the slower posted speed limit and stop intersections. The competitors will navigate on county highways, county roads, city streets, BLM / Forest service roads and trail systems.

DEFINITION OF A CROSS-COUNTRY RALLY

A Cross-Country Rally is a sporting event staged over varied terrain and is intended to prove the skill, the endurance of riders, and the reliability of their machines. Moreover, this discipline must reveal the skills of navigating of the Rally riders.

The terrain consists of natural landscapes and usually not modified by the organizer as follows:

- Mountains, rocky sections
- Dunes
- Rivers, dry riverbeds, mud tracks
- Open public road
- Natural vegetation, bushes, high grass, forests
- Asphalt roads, off road tracks
- Terrain with snow conditions

DEFINITIONS:

DNF – Did not finish – A rider who is issued a DNF may at their discretion continue the route, they must get to next bivouac area as scheduled. A DNF allows the rider to still participate but their time will be effected by penalties if they decide to do so for missing waypoints in that stage.

DQ – Disqualified – A disqualified rider will have the RallyComp removed from their motorcycle at the finish line and leave the event immediately. Their rider box with and belongings will be delivered to the Montrose County Fairgrounds when the riders return to Montrose on the last day of the rally. If you cannot abide by federal, state, county and municipal traffic laws and regulations don't register for this event. Your actions could lead to civil litigation by the organizer for jeopardizing the event.

Federal land managers, law enforcement and county permitting have the right to terminate this event at any time for reckless behavior. As stated, before this is NOT a maximum speed race!

ORGANIZER RESPONSIBILITY:

The organizer will provide transportation and recovery for participants and their motorcycles to the bivouac area or the nearest town if they have a mechanical or physical issue. The organizer will transport supplied field boxes to bivouac areas. Water will be provided at each bivouac for refilling hydration systems and for cooking of freeze-dried food. The organizer will provide sweep riders for the entire route. If a participant has a mechanical problem, or if they are injured, sweep riders and recovery will assist. Every rider WILL be accounted for!

SCORING:

The COTAH rally is a sum of all five days times added together for one overall completed time, there are no special test sections, speed sections or transfer sections for this event. The entire event is a navigation, riding skills and machine reliability event. Once the participant starts each day the time clock will not stop until they reach the finish line at the bivouac on that given day. The top three participants who can navigate and master the route and not collect time penalties and finish the event with the best overall times will receive prizes.

1 second over speed limit = 1 minute.
Failure to stop for 3 seconds = 3 minutes.
Failure to stay at neutralization / gas stop per required time 1 second = 1 minute.
Unmasking a waypoint = 10 minutes.
Loss of time card = 1 hour.
Failure to stop for injured rider or party if nobody is first on-scene = Disqualification.
Protest must be in writing within 60 minutes after rider crossing the finish line.

PHOTOGRAPHY & FILMING

Personal filming devices will not have a GPS tracking / mapping enabled mode. All Pictures and video taken by COTAH RALLY ADVENTURES shall be used for marketing.

CREW SUPPORT:

MECHANICAL FAILURE:

If your motorcycle cannot continue, rider, gear and bike will be picked up by a sweep vehicle and transported to the next town or the bivouac area on the route, rider's choice. Participant may call someone to come pick them, gear and bike up at the next town or the bivouac area.

Participant may ride along with event support if necessary.

If a participant gets their bike up and running at the bivouac area, they may continue at next start but will receive penalties for the parts of the stage they failed to complete .

BIVOUAC AREAS:

Forest Service and BLM bivouac areas will be policed of all trash before the start time. Bagged garbage will be placed in the garbage dumpsters, if dumpsters are not available bagged garbage will be placed near support vehicles for proper disposal.

There will be no oil changes in the bivouac areas. All maintenance will be done on a pit mat, a limited number will be available from organizer.

Quiet hours 10:00 PM to 6:00 AM, engines cannot be started.

GPS REQUIREMENT AND USE

A GPS is required it is not to be used for navigation, only for latitude and longitude coordinates in case of a medical emergency, so a rider can notify 911, and/or the organizer where they are located or for emergency navigation in case of a natural disaster.

SAFETY, LAND USE REGULATIONS & EMERGENCIES:

There will be no fueling of bikes while running or while rider is mounted.

All tools and hard objects larger than 5" will be transported on the motorcycle not in any pack or clothing of participant.

It is required riders observe all highway safety codes and regulations. If riders do not obey posted speed limits they can and may be cited by law enforcement. If a participant is cited during event, they will be disqualified. There will be time penalties generated by the satellite tracker if the rider fails to obey speed limits indicated by the roadbook or speed limit posted on road signs. To avoid time penalties, participants need to be at the indicated speed limit before passing the speed change. If any road sign displaying the speed limit has been changed to a lower speed than what is shown in the roadbook, the participants will obey the lower posted speed limit.

All law enforcement agencies along the route have approved this event and will have direct contact with the event organizer. If a participant is ticketed or arrested for exhibition of speed, they risk having their motorcycle impounded by law enforcement.

Law enforcement agencies have been invited to patrol the route at their discretion.

All regulations will be followed while riding on federal lands and riders will stay on the approved Motor Vehicle Use Road and Trail System. This prevents damage to natural resources and ensures continued motorized use of public lands. There will be no cross-country travel.

Satellite tracking will be utilized to assess time penalties. If land managers determine participants violated cross-country travel restriction, satellite tracking will be provided to them.

If a federal fine is assessed on a participant, they will be disqualified.

Participants will yield to horseback riders, pedestrians, and bicyclists. Riders will pull over and let them pass if the trail is narrow. On wider trails, while passing, speed must be reduced to 10 mph or less. Trail etiquette will be observed i.e. shutting off engine near a nervous horse. Covering trail users in a plume of dust (aka ghosting) will not be tolerated. If a rider is reported ghosting by other trail users, they will be disqualified. Also, be aware of livestock on open range and leave each gate as you found it. Riders must also be aware of wildlife that may unexpectedly pass in front of them. Most county and state law enforcement agencies have a letter of agreement on file with federal land managers to enforce laws on federal lands.

A rider suffering a mechanical failure, rider injury or running late are required to inform the event organizer at the phone number provided on the "Riders Time Card". There is an absolute requirement to know the whereabouts of every participant (nobody gets left behind). If necessary, call 911 and request police, fire, ambulance etc.

Due to the long overall distance, riders will be required to maintain a prudent and reasonable average speed.

The route includes gas stations where the riders must obtain and pay for their own fuel. These gas stations will be in the rider's road book. If a rider runs out of fuel and a support vehicle provides fuel, there will be a time penalty of 30 minutes.

GOOD SAMARITAN TIME CREDIT: Every participant Must render aid for an injured person discovered along route. Any rider that renders aid will have a time modification equal to the amount of time they rendered aid. When you stop to assist another rider/person who needs immediate medical assistance, or a life or death situation, you will immediately notify 911. If it has not been done by another rider or Good Samaritan and give the street, road, highway location or longitude and latitude in the backcountry.

Participant will then provide aid and remain on-scene until medical authorities arrive. At the earliest opportunity call and notify the event organizer of the incident. Keep track of time that you started aid and stopped giving aid. Notification to organizer must be given before continuing, otherwise no credit will be given. Colorado and Utah have protections for Good Samaritans.

ALCOHOL / DRUG POLICY

- Drinking of intoxicating beverages is forbidden while riding and in Bivouac site.
- The use or possession of narcotics including marijuana (amphetamines or other stimulants, barbiturates or other depressants) is forbidden. The use or possession of marijuana on federal lands is illegal regardless of state or local law. Medications with valid prescription container are allowed.
- Any participate who shows any evidence of being under the influence at any time, including bivouac area will be disqualified. If participant is observed riding under the influence local law enforcement will be notified.

Yes, volunteers must have a Colorado and Utah Search and Rescue cards just like the competitors. (Please follow the links on our website)

Can a rider use one of the other current Garmin Inreach Models with similar or superior capability (InReach, Mini 2, 66/86) or are you just requiring the old-style Mini with no substitute as listed?

Other Garmin InReach satellite communicators may be used but it must have the SOS function. such as the Mini, Mini 2, 66 and 86. We want the PLB on the riders body and not on the motorcycle. Where they carry it and how they carry it will be their responsibility. We do not want to see it inside someones hydration pack on their back. If they don't have their rally jacket or vest on they must still have it on their body and that is why we stated the GL Packer Tracker because it can go around the arm or pack strap and must be reachable with one hand for activation. I have attached a link down below and I think that carrier can be modified for around the arm use for the 66i.

<https://www.garmin.com/en-US/p/114625>

03/22/2022

RALLY COMP may be used as the rider's primary ODO/ Cap Heading/ Speedometer if they do not have and ICO, RNS or KTM Tripmaster but remember you will have no redundancy in case of unit failure. Riders must have a roadbook box preferably powered but a manual roadbook box may be used.

03/13/2022

Registration will close August 1, 2022 and not August 31, 2022 due to logistics with satellite phone provider.

03/09/2022

Fuel range and fuel tank size clarification; motorcycles must meet the required fuel range of 161 kilometres no matter what size the fuel tank is on any given make or model motorcycle.

SUGGESTED MOTION:

I move to approve the revised guidelines for the Grant County Special Event Grant.

BACKGROUND:

In past meetings of the Moab Area Travel Council Advisory Board (TCAB), members have expressed the desire to see the Special Event Grant guidelines revised to prioritize funding new and existing events that encourage visitation to Grand County during periods of low visitation. The Grand County Economic Development Department (EDD) has met with board members and has worked to incorporate their suggestions in the revised guidelines as provided.

The revised guidelines include a change in the program’s title, from the “Event Advertising Grant” to the “Special Event Grant,” as well as other changes that represent TCAB and the EDD’s focus on supporting novel, sustainable event programming in Grand County.

The approval of these revised guidelines will allow the EDD to disburse the remaining funds allocated for this year’s Special Event Grant ($18,300) in a timely fashion. Additionally, these revised guidelines, if approved, will provide the EDD capacity to solicit applications for the 2023 grant round by August 31st.

The final payment, the remaining 50% of the total grant award, will be made when the grantee ~~s-has completed the event~~ has concluded and the grantee has submitted their ~~its~~ final report to the EDD/TCAB. Payments will only be made to the event applicant, not to their vendors.

~~89.~~ All applicants applying for a Special Event Grant must also apply for and fulfill all requirements for a Special Event Permit from the City of Moab and/or Grand County. Any permit, proof of insurance, right of way or other document required from any agency (local, state, federal, tribal or private) must be acquired well in advance of the event and is the burden of the event applicant. Up to 50% of the required match may be made up through "in-kind" means, including volunteer labor and donations, and 50% in-kind, or all in-cash. The funding received from the EDD and your 100% match must be spent on advertising, 50% of your match can be in-kind.

~~1011.~~ Volunteer hours are applicable towards the in-kind match. Volunteer hour value is based on the National Value of Volunteer Time. When figuring in-kind services, we have come up with a figure of $7.25 per hour, which is the minimum wage. This rate was determined by talking to Workforce Services about a fair rate of reimbursement for volunteer services such as phone calls, mailings, placing posters, etc. If professional services are donated, then figure those services at the going rate.

~~10112.~~ No grant will be made for the promotion of religion or for any cause designed primarily to benefit or disseminate a political agenda rather than directly benefit the promotion of tourism.

~~11213.~~ Funding is contingent upon available monies, and the process is competitive. There is no guarantee that funding, if granted, will be available in subsequent years. Even though a project may qualify, limited funds may not allow all projects to receive funding. Any and all decisions regarding awarding funds are at the discretion of the EDD and are final only at the time of award.

~~12314.~~ Grant The funds cannot be used to promote private business. This does not include ~~13415~~. A complete and detailed final report, including summary of expenditures, estimated attendance, completed surveys, and financial impact will be required within sixty (60) days ~~following after~~ the ~~conclusion completion~~ of the event. If the project is long term, a schedule will be determined by ~~TCAB the board~~ as to the frequency of ~~required~~ periodic reports. Goal: Funding is to be used as seed money to develop and support events that encourage quality visitation to Grand County and disperse that visitation to lower visitation periods of the tourism season.

Definition: For the purposes of this application, “applicant” is defined as the event organization or sponsoring organization making the application. An “event” is defined as a period of time specifically for a special purpose, which does not occur on a daily basis.

Special Event Grant Proposals: Special Event Grant proposals can be made by any individual, company or non-profit organization with a valid tax return, business license or 501(c)3 documents and can be for first time or fledgling events. Events could include, but are not limited to the following:

- Races
- Festivals
- Dramatic Productions
- Cultural Events

Review Date: Fully completed event applications will be due in the EDD office by 5:00 pm, August 31 annually. Recommendation for award of funds will occur during the September meeting of the Moab Area Travel Council Advisory Board (TCAB). If the due date for applications falls on a Saturday or Sunday, applications will be due in the EDD office by 5:00pm on the Monday following. Applicants are encouraged to submit applications early, as this will allow staff more time to review the applications and notify the applicant if anything is incomplete or missing. Incomplete applications will be returned, and will be accepted as complete up until the due date. Once completion is verified the application will be submitted to the TCAB for their consideration. The applicant may be required to attend TCAB’s annual event presentation meeting. All applications will be scored using the same criteria and process. If funds allow, additional applications will be reviewed on a quarterly basis. Exemptions to the application review timeline may be granted by the TCAB under extenuating circumstances.

Criteria:

1. This grant aims to support events that will exceed more than one day in duration and encourages out-of-area visitors primarily during targeted low visitation periods of the year.
2. Applicants must provide plans detailing their intention to duplicate their event on an annual basis. Applicants must demonstrate fiscal responsibility within 5 years in these plans. The EDD will give special consideration to events that are moving towards fiscal and environmental sustainability. Events that can demonstrate that they will encourage sustainable practices, responsible recreation, and diverse cultural experiences will be given consideration on the scorecard for their efforts. Funding new events will be given consideration over existing events.
3. Applications for grants must be completed on the application form provided by the EDD and must be filled out completely. Incomplete applications will not be considered and will be returned to the event applicant.
4. The applicant, if awarded, is required to collect survey responses from its event participants. The compiled results will be required as part of the applicant's final report. The questions the applicant must ask its participants include:
 - a. How many participants are there?
 - b. How many additional people are in the participant's party?
 - c. How many participants will stay in lodging?
 - d. How many participants will stay in commercial campgrounds?
 - e. What state or county are the participants from?
 - f. How many participants will eat in restaurants?
 - g. How much will be spent per person for this trip? (in USD $)
 - h. How did the participant hear about this event? (Radio, Television, Print ad, Friend, Website, Flyer or Poster, other)
 - i. Is this the participant's first visit to Moab?
 - j. Is the participant a Grand County local or a visitor?
5. All advertising MUST contain the EDD logo which can be obtained by contacting the EDD office. A copy of all advertisements including the EDD logo must be submitted with each of the applicant's final invoices in the applicant's final report prior to receiving the remaining 50% of funds (see section 7). The applicant must provide copies of each advertisement for each invoice submitted.
6. A contract, stating terms and conditions, must be signed with applicants of approved events.
7. Granted funds will be allocated in two installments. The first payment, 50% of the total grant award, will be made upon receiving the signed contract and an invoice from the grantee. The final payment, the remaining 50% of the total grant award, will be made when the grantee's event has concluded and the grantee has submitted their final report to the EDD. Payments will only be made to the event applicant, not to their vendors.
8. All applicants applying for a Special Event Grant must also apply for and fulfill all requirements for a Special Event Permit from the City of Moab and/or Grand County.

9. The applicant must provide a 100% match to the requested grant; a minimum of 50% of this match must be in cash. Example: if an applicant is requesting $4,000 from the EDD, applicants must provide a match of $4,000, of which at least $2,000 must be provided as cash. Up to 50% of the required match may be made up through "in-kind" means, including volunteer labor and donations. Volunteer hour value is based on the National Value of Volunteer Time.

10. No grant will be made for the promotion of religion or for any cause designed primarily to benefit or disseminate a political agenda rather than directly benefit the promotion of tourism.

11. Funding is contingent upon available monies, and the process is competitive. There is no guarantee that funding, if granted, will be available in subsequent years. Though a project may qualify, limited funds may not allow all projects to receive funding. Any and all decisions regarding awarding funds are at the discretion of the EDD and are final only at the time of award.

12. Grant funds cannot be used to promote private business. This does not include indirect benefit as a by-product of the activity. A clear distinction between the event applicants and any single business must be articulated.

13. A complete and detailed final report, including summary of expenditures, estimated attendance, completed surveys, and financial impact will be required within sixty (60) days following the conclusion of the event. If the project is long term, a schedule will be determined by TCAB as to the frequency of required periodic reports. The event applicant may be asked to appear before TCAB if questions arise.

14. Applications are to be submitted to the Grand County Economic Development Department.

SUGGESTED MOTION:

I move to approve the Community Event Grant program.

BACKGROUND:

In past meetings of the Moab Area Travel Council Advisory Board (TCAB), members have expressed the desire to fund events and programs that aim specifically to engage local members of the community. The Grand County Economic Development Department (EDD) has met with board members and has worked to incorporate their suggestions in the proposed program guidelines as provided.

The proposed guidelines are similar to the Special Event Grant guidelines and emphasize the importance that events prioritize environmental sustainability and responsible recreation education; however, the Community Event Grant’s proposed scoring criteria does not consider advertising and reduces the expectation that proposed events work towards financial sustainability. Additionally, the Community Event Grant’s proposed rubric increases the points an event is able to earn in the “Novelty and Originality” category. These nuanced changes are designed to encourage Grand County residents to pose new, exciting, and/or experimental events that are not provided or are underprovided in Grand County.

The approval of this new grant program will allow the EDD to pilot the solicitation of grant applications and the disbursement of grant funds. While the EDD is currently unsure of how many awards or the amount of funds it will disburse for this pilot program, $40,000 of transient room tax (TRT) funds designated for establishing “recreation, film production, and conventions” are allocated in the EDD budget.

SUGGESTED MOTION:

I move to approve the grant award of $100,00 for Moab Community Childcare.

BACKGROUND:

The Grand County Economic Development Advisory Board (EDAB) is tasked with determining how funds from the Rural County Grant (Parts A and B) are spent in Grand County, as codified in Utah’s S.B. 95: Economic Development Amendments. In recent board meetings, EDAB has highlighted childcare as an economic development priority in Grand County. The Grand County Economic Development Department (EDD) and members of EDAB have conducted round tables and worked within the community to determine how to support existing childcare providers and incentivize the creation of others.

Local non-profit Moab Community Childcare (MCC) has presented a funding proposal to EDAB that will effectively address the childcare concerns stated above and has begun doing so already. EDAB workshopped this proposal over the course of numerous meetings and recently voted in favor of awarding MCC’s request of $100,000 from funds provided by the Rural County Grant Part A Fiscal Year 2022 award.

Of note, MCC Board Chair Rob Walker also serves on EDAB. Rob has worked closely with EDAB and the EDD and diligently within the Grand County community. As a board member of MCC, he has assured both EDAB and the EDD that he stands to make no financial gains through the awarding of these funds.

BACKGROUND

OUR MISSION

We are a 501(c)(3) non-profit whose mission is to improve the availability of high-quality, affordable childcare in the Moab Valley. We work to accomplish our mission in two ways: (1) supporting existing childcare providers to ensure their continued operation in our community, improve their quality of service, and where appropriate, increase their capacity; and (2) supporting the creation of new childcare facilities. We are in the process of opening two centers which are expected to add around 35 spots of childcare to our community (a 25% increase in availability).

CHILDCARE IS ECONOMIC & WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT

We believe lack of childcare is a major impediment to economic growth. Given the high cost of housing relative to incomes in the Moab Valley, both parents often need to work to make ends meet. If parents cannot find childcare, one has to stay home. We estimate there are perhaps several hundred parents in the Moab Valley that would be able to work if they had childcare.

300+ NEEDED SPOTS

There are 130 full-time spots for childcare in the Moab Valley. However, 100 kids are born here each year. Workforce services estimates there is demand for 465 spots for kids under age 6. The true disparity might be greater when you include the need for childcare for older kids (i.e. after school, summers).

$10+ MILLION IN POTENTIAL ECONOMIC GROWTH

When a parent cannot find childcare, their options for work are limited. If all demanded childcare spots were filled, perhaps another 200 individuals would be able to work full-time. This would translate into $8 million of economic growth assuming they earn $40,000/yr.

Separately, the State of Utah provides generous childcare subsidies which cover nearly the entire cost of childcare. For example, a family of four that earns under $73,000 per would qualify for roughly $750 per month in reimbursements for each child ($1,500 in total). If all demanded childcare spots were filled, and the parents were all receiving the state subsidies, that would translate into an additional $3 million that local residents would be receiving from the state of Utah. This would go predominantly to wages for childcare workers.

EXISTING PROVIDERS ARE STRESSED

There are only 10 providers of childcare in the Moab Valley. The vast majority of which work alone or with their spouses. We have met with eight and we've found each are stressed in various intuitive ways. The main stressors stem from the constant demands on their time. Most are open 50 hours a week or more. This doesn't include time spent cleaning up (imagine how messy 16 kids are), food shopping for the kids, and the various administrative tasks of running a business and complying with the additional state regulations for daycare providers. Providers do earn higher incomes than Grand County averages, but they work very hard for the money.

The obvious question is why not hire more staff? It is difficult in practice due to strict rules on ratios of kids to caregivers. For an in-home provider, this is a maximum of 8 kids to 1 caregiver. If a sole provider were to hire an additional staff member, in order to expand from 8 to 16 kids, they would be out of compliance if that staff member was ever out sick, wanted a vacation, or quit abruptly.

Ideally, they could hire a few part-time caregivers to always have someone willing to work but there is less supply of people looking for part-time work compared to full-time work. Plus, there are easier jobs at comparable wages to compete with. As a result, seven of the eight providers we spoke with (excluding Head Start which is a federally administered program) do not have employees besides spouses. Six of these seven providers told us they would like to hire part and/or full-time help. Some wanted as much as two full-time staff members but had trouble offering a competitive wage.

THE PLAN: SECURE THE BASE, THEN EXPAND

Our initial plan was to apply for a grant to focus solely on incentivizing new providers. While that will still be a focus, we think we'd be short-sighted if we didn't first help stabilize our existing providers to help them thrive, as well as to ensure we don't lose any of them. We also believe that a well-supported base of existing providers will be a key resource in helping us convince potential new providers to open their own daycares.

PROPOSED USE OF GRANT FUNDS

After hosting two roundtable discussions and meeting 1x1 with 8 of the 10 existing providers, we are confident our plan will help the entire childcare ecosystem in the Moab Valley thrive.

We will focus on two areas:

(1) supporting existing childcare providers to ensure their continued operation in our community, improve their quality of service, and where appropriate, increase their capacity; and

(2) supporting the creation of new childcare facilities (both in centers and in homes).

What follows is our initial plan, and requested funding, to achieve these goals.

1. SUPPORT FOR EXISTING PROVIDERS - $67,424

THE PROBLEM:

As described in the background section of this document, existing providers are stressed. We need more providers and we can't afford to lose any due to burnout. There are structural reasons why they have a hard time hiring additional help to ease the burden of running a daycare.

OUR SOLUTION:

We will hire full-time, well compensated, qualified childcare workers and have them split their time between the existing providers who need extra help. We will provide a base level of service free of charge to encourage all providers to utilize it: one of our employees shows up once a week for a few hours to help with watching the kids, running an errand, or cleaning. This should reduce the risk of burnout for providers and also improve the quality of care children receive (by lowering caregiver to child ratios).

8 providers x 3 hr/week x 50 weeks x $25.82/hr direct employee cost incl. payroll taxes = $30,984

Note that our estimates assume 8 of the 10 providers use our services.*

Most providers have expressed a desire to have even more hours of help per week and are willing to pay us for it. Again the issue for most isn't a lack of money, it's a lack of time. The job is very demanding and hiring is difficult and impractical due to structural reasons stemming from required caregiver to child ratios. Because we will have additional staff, we can better ensure that backup staff will be available should someone not be able to come to work. That will keep them from falling out of compliance with the State.

We think it makes sense to partially subsidize this additional help, again to encourage providers to take advantage of it. We think offering this additional support for $15/hr will strike a good balance between affordability for providers, but also help us maximize the impact we can make with the County's money. We will provide up to an additional 7 hours per week at $15/hr, which when combined with the free 3 hours a week, is 10 hours per week per provider for $10.50/hr.

We expect a few providers will want even more help than 10 hours a week. We will provide additional hours, staff permitting, at $25.80/hr, our direct employee cost plus payroll taxes. Note that this is still a partially subsidized figure as it doesn't include our overhead costs.

8 providers x 7 additional hours x 50 weeks/yr x ($25.80/hr direct employee cost - $15/hr provider co-pay) = $30,240

On top of providing additional staffing, we will work with providers to help them qualify for enhanced subsidy grants by obtaining the high-quality certification from the State of Utah (CCQS). These enhanced subsidies will be time consuming to obtain (requiring providers to change things in their routines) but represent an additional subsidy payment of $250 per month per child. This translates into $24,000 more per year for a sole provider caring for 8 kids, or $48,000 per year for those caring for 16 kids. In addition, we believe getting more providers certified as high-quality will result in better outcomes for kids and families. We are still finalizing what we will charge for this service but, given the large financial upside for providers, we don't expect to use any grant money to fund this activity.

Our help will be iterative in that we will continually refine how our employees use their time to best help providers thrive. Since our employees will literally be in providers homes multiple times a week providing free or subsidized assistance, we will be in a great position to understand their unique needs as well as help identify opportunities (such as whether they might benefit from a particular grant, how they might expand their operations, or tweaking part of their routine to utilize a best practice). Essentially we will have 10 customers to start with and as we help create new centers, the customer list of Helping Hands will grow one provider at a time.

PROGRESS SO FAR:

We began the Helping Hands program in early June. So far we have hired 3 staff members that have conducted 15 Helping Hands sessions at 4 different providers' locations. Feedback from both our employees and providers has been very positive. Besides watching the kids, our employees have helped with cleaning, organizing, and making improvement suggestions based on best practices they've observed at other facilities.

Here are a few comments from providers we've helped so far:

"Helping Hands has been wonderful assisting in so many areas. We appreciate the extra pair of hands at meal times and outdoor play which can get a little hectic. Looking forward to having the extra help during arts and crafts projects! I truly believe this program benefits and enriches the daycare community." -Jodi Goff - Happy Dayz Kidz Daycare

"I would like to say that I very much appreciate the Helping Hands program. They have come to my home daycare and helped me with my duties and helping with the children in my care. They are a great asset to the community and I hope they can stick around for me and other providers." -Heather Brooks, Red Rock Tots

"It feels great to have support and not feel alone. To be able to clean and disinfect parts of the daycare I normally would not have the time to has been awesome. The children have been able to participate in fun arts and crafts that would be too messy without the help. I have also appreciated the schedule and organization help." -Amy Allen, Wiggle Worms Daycare

We would also like to provide some financial assistance to providers to help encourage them to make upgrades to their facilities. We propose to allocate $5,000 for 50/50 matching grants. Our board will vote on which proposed investments are most impactful.

We also would like to use a small amount of grant funds to create a peer support network. One surprise from our roundtable event was how much providers enjoyed talking with one another. Sharing best practices, frustrations and just having more adult interaction were all reasons cited as to why the roundtable was a success. We would like to continue to host such events, which will be part support group, part best practice type sessions around a relevant conversation topic.

6 events per year x 10 attendees x $20 per person in food/drink = $1,200

2. SUPPORT FOR NEW PROVIDERS - $20,000

THE PROBLEM:

As described in the background section of this document, there aren't enough childcare providers in the Moab Valley relative to the demand. There are many barriers to opening a center:

- 1) There is a lack of commercial real estate available for rent.
- 2) Buying a house here is out of reach for most people.
- 3) Landlords often won't allow their tenants to operate a home daycare facility.
- 4) It often requires an investment of $10,000 or more, which is hard to recoup if one moves.
- 5) Operating a home daycare facility can be very disruptive to a family's home life.
- 6) Childcare is a highly regulated industry so it is more difficult to start than other businesses.

OUR SOLUTION:

We will partner with organizations whose missions align with ours to utilize space in their facilities free of charge to create childcare centers. We will use grant money to create turnkey childcare facilities. We will enter into subsidized sublet agreements with would-be providers to run the facility as their own, under basic stipulations around quality of service.

We will assist new in-home providers: providing financial incentives where necessary and working one-on-one to help them through the licensing process. We will also pay existing providers to help mentor them. The majority of assistance will be in the form of business consulting services.

PROGRESS SO FAR:

We are in the final stages of opening two new childcare centers in the Moab Valley that together represent a 25% increase in overall supply. We expect both facilities to be licensed by end of July.

Childcare Center at Synergy: At one of our roundtable events we connected Heather Brooks with Synergy. Synergy employs ~80 people in the Moab Valley. Heather is currently a home provider operating out of a rental home providing care to 10 kids. The home she rents is small and Heather desired to move to a larger facility outside of her home. Synergy expressed a desire to offer childcare to their employees to help with retention and recruitment. Synergy had a manufactured home adjacent to their facilities on Resource Blvd. that they weren't fully utilizing. Moab Community Childcare provided free consulting services, meeting weekly with all parties to help manage the project and be an independent third-party to ensure a good outcome for all. The center is expected to open by the end of July and, when fully staffed, will have 24 spots.

“Moab Community Childcare is a remarkable asset to our community. The Synergy Company is exceedingly proud to soon be offering on-site daycare to our staff and others in our community. This simply would not have been feasible without the reliable, consistent, and insightful guidance Moab Community Childcare.” - Thatcher Vagts - CEO of Synergy

Childcare Center at the Lutheran Church: The Lutheran Church, 360 W 400 N, has a very small congregation and its building was only being used on Sundays. They offered to let us use the space rent-free during the week for a childcare center. The building was old and required a number of upgrades and maintenance in order to obtain our business and childcare license. We paid for an outdoor fence, installation of a dishwasher, replaced old lighting fixtures, among many other smaller tasks. We are in the final stages of approval and hope to be fully licensed by end of July. We hope to open our doors a month or two later. We expect this facility, when fully staffed, will add 24 spots.

OVERHEAD - $12,576 This covers other expenses we expect and/or reasonably expect to incur but not included above, such as mileage reimbursements ($0.585/mile, perhaps $5,000 for the year), insurance ($2,100/yr), payroll software ($700/yr), and $5,000 for contingencies.

BACKGROUND

OUR MISSION

We are a 501(c)(3) non-profit whose mission is to improve the availability of high-quality, affordable childcare in the Moab Valley. We work to accomplish our mission in two ways: (1) supporting existing childcare providers to ensure their continued operation in our community, improve their quality of service, and where appropriate, increase their capacity; and (2) supporting the creation of new childcare facilities. We are in the process of opening two centers which are expected to add around 35 spots of childcare to our community (a 25% increase in availability).

CHILDCARE IS ECONOMIC & WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT

We believe lack of childcare is a major impediment to economic growth. Given the high cost of housing relative to incomes in the Moab Valley, both parents often need to work to make ends meet. If parents cannot find childcare, one has to stay home. We estimate there are perhaps several hundred parents in the Moab Valley that would be able to work if they had childcare.

300+ NEEDED SPOTS

There are 130 full-time spots for childcare in the Moab Valley. However, 100 kids are born here each year. Workforce services estimates there is demand for 465 spots for kids under age 6. The true disparity might be greater when you include the need for childcare for older kids (i.e. after school, summers).

$10+ MILLION IN POTENTIAL ECONOMIC GROWTH

When a parent cannot find childcare, their options for work are limited. If all demanded childcare spots were filled, perhaps another 200 individuals would be able to work full-time. This would translate into $8 million of economic growth assuming they earn $40,000/yr.

Separately, the State of Utah provides generous childcare subsidies which cover nearly the entire cost of childcare. For example, a family of four that earns under $73,000 per would qualify for roughly $750 per month in reimbursements for each child ($1,500 in total). If all demanded childcare spots were filled, and the parents were all receiving the state subsidies, that would translate into an additional $3 million that local residents would be receiving from the state of Utah. This would go predominantly to wages for childcare workers.

EXISTING PROVIDERS ARE STRESSED

There are only 10 providers of childcare in the Moab Valley. The vast majority of which work alone or with their spouses. We have met with eight and we've found each are stressed in various intuitive ways. The main stressors stem from the constant demands on their time. Most are open 50 hours a week or more. This doesn't include time spent cleaning up (imagine how messy 16 kids are), food shopping for the kids, and the various administrative tasks of running a business and complying with the additional state regulations for daycare providers. Providers do earn higher incomes than Grand County averages, but they work very hard for the money.

The obvious question is why not hire more staff? It is difficult in practice due to strict rules on ratios of kids to caregivers. For an in-home provider, this is a maximum of 8 kids to 1 caregiver. If a sole provider were to hire an additional staff member, in order to expand from 8 to 16 kids, they would be out of compliance if that staff member was ever out sick, wanted a vacation, or quit abruptly.

Ideally, they could hire a few part-time caregivers to always have someone willing to work but there is less supply of people looking for part-time work compared to full-time work. Plus, there are easier jobs at comparable wages to compete with. As a result, seven of the eight providers we spoke with (excluding Head Start which is a federally administered program) do not have employees besides spouses. Six of these seven providers told us they would like to hire part and/or full-time help. Some wanted as much as two full-time staff members but had trouble offering a competitive wage.

THE PLAN: SECURE THE BASE, THEN EXPAND

Our initial plan was to apply for a grant to focus solely on incentivizing new providers. While that will still be a focus, we think we'd be short-sighted if we didn't first help stabilize our existing providers to help them thrive, as well as to ensure we don't lose any of them. We also believe that a well-supported base of existing providers will be a key resource in helping us convince potential new providers to open their own daycares.

PROPOSED USE OF GRANT FUNDS

After hosting two roundtable discussions and meeting 1x1 with 8 of the 10 existing providers, we are confident our plan will help the entire childcare ecosystem in the Moab Valley thrive.

We will focus on two areas:

- (1) supporting existing childcare providers to ensure their continued operation in our community, improve their quality of service, and where appropriate, increase their capacity; and
- (2) supporting the creation of new childcare facilities (both in centers and in homes).

What follows is our initial plan, and requested funding, to achieve these goals.

1. SUPPORT FOR EXISTING PROVIDERS - $67,424

THE PROBLEM:

As described in the background section of this document, existing providers are stressed. We need more providers and we can't afford to lose any due to burnout. There are structural reasons why they have a hard time hiring additional help to ease the burden of running a daycare.

OUR SOLUTION:

We will hire full-time, well compensated, qualified childcare workers and have them split their time between the existing providers who need extra help. We will provide a base level of service free of charge to encourage all providers to utilize it: one of our employees shows up once a week for a few hours to help with watching the kids, running an errand, or cleaning. This should reduce the risk of burnout for providers and also improve the quality of care children receive (by lowering caregiver to child ratios).

*8 providers x 3 hr/week x 50 weeks x $25.82/hr direct employee cost incl. payroll taxes = $30,984
Note that our estimates assume 8 of the 10 providers use our services.

Most providers have expressed a desire to have even more hours of help per week and are willing to pay us for it. Again the issue for most isn't a lack of money, it's a lack of time. The job is very demanding and hiring is difficult and impractical due to structural reasons stemming from required caregiver to child ratios. Because we will have additional staff, we can better ensure that backup staff will be available should someone not be able to come to work. That will keep them from falling out of compliance with the State.

We think it makes sense to partially subsidize this additional help, again to encourage providers to take advantage of it. We think offering this additional support for $15/hr will strike a good balance between affordability for providers, but also help us maximize the impact we can make with the County's money. We will provide up to an additional 7 hours per week at $15/hr, which when combined with the free 3 hours a week, is 10 hours per week per provider for $10.50/hr.

We expect a few providers will want even more help than 10 hours a week. We will provide additional hours, staff permitting, at $25.80/hr, our direct employee cost plus payroll taxes. Note that this is still a partially subsidized figure as it doesn't include our overhead costs.

8 providers x 7 additional hours x 50 weeks/yr x ($25.80/hr direct employee cost - $15/hr provider co-pay) = $30,240

On top of providing additional staffing, we will work with providers to help them qualify for enhanced subsidy grants by obtaining the high-quality certification from the State of Utah (CCQS). These enhanced subsidies will be time consuming to obtain (requiring providers to change things in their routines) but represent an additional subsidy payment of $250 per month per child. This translates into $24,000 more per year for a sole provider caring for 8 kids, or $48,000 per year for those caring for 16 kids. In addition, we believe getting more providers certified as high-quality will result in better outcomes for kids and families. We are still finalizing what we will charge for this service but, given the large financial upside for providers, we don't expect to use any grant money to fund this activity.

Our help will be iterative in that we will continually refine how our employees use their time to best help providers thrive. Since our employees will literally be in providers homes multiple times a week providing free or subsidized assistance, we will be in a great position to understand their unique needs as well as help identify opportunities (such as whether they might benefit from a particular grant, how they might expand their operations, or tweaking part of their routine to utilize a best practice). Essentially we will have 10 customers to start with and as we help create new centers, the customer list of Helping Hands will grow one provider at a time.

PROGRESS SO FAR:

We began the Helping Hands program in early June. So far we have hired 3 staff members that have conducted 15 Helping Hands sessions at 4 different providers' locations. Feedback from both our employees and providers has been very positive. Besides watching the kids, our employees have helped with cleaning, organizing, and making improvement suggestions based on best practices they've observed at other facilities.

Here are a few comments from providers we've helped so far:

"Helping Hands has been wonderful assisting in so many areas. We appreciate the extra pair of hands at meal times and outdoor play which can get a little hectic. Looking forward to having the extra help during arts and crafts projects! I truly believe this program benefits and enriches the daycare community." -Jodi Goff - Happy Dayz Kidz Daycare

"I would like to say that I very much appreciate the Helping Hands program. They have come to my home daycare and helped me with my duties and helping with the children in my care. They are a great asset to the community and I hope they can stick around for me and other providers." -Heather Brooks, Red Rock Tots

"It feels great to have support and not feel alone. To be able to clean and disinfect parts of the daycare I normally would not have the time to has been awesome. The children have been able to participate in fun arts and crafts that would be too messy without the help. I have also appreciated the schedule and organization help." -Amy Allen, Wiggle Worms Daycare

We would also like to provide some financial assistance to providers to help encourage them to make upgrades to their facilities. We propose to allocate $5,000 for 50/50 matching grants. Our board will vote on which proposed investments are most impactful.

We also would like to use a small amount of grant funds to create a peer support network. One surprise from our roundtable event was how much providers enjoyed talking with one another. Sharing best practices, frustrations and just having more adult interaction were all reasons cited as to why the roundtable was a success. We would like to continue to host such events, which will be part support group, part best practice type sessions around a relevant conversation topic.

6 events per year x 10 attendees x $20 per person in food/drink = $1,200

2. SUPPORT FOR NEW PROVIDERS - $20,000

THE PROBLEM:

As described in the background section of this document, there aren't enough childcare providers in the Moab Valley relative to the demand. There are many barriers to opening a center:

- 1) There is a lack of commercial real estate available for rent.
- 2) Buying a house here is out of reach for most people.
- 3) Landlords often won't allow their tenants to operate a home daycare facility.
- 4) It often requires an investment of $10,000 or more, which is hard to recoup if one moves.
- 5) Operating a home daycare facility can be very disruptive to a family's home life.
- 6) Childcare is a highly regulated industry so it is more difficult to start than other businesses.

OUR SOLUTION:

We will partner with organizations whose missions align with ours to utilize space in their facilities free of charge to create childcare centers. We will use grant money to create turnkey childcare facilities. We will enter into subsidized sublet agreements with would-be providers to run the facility as their own, under basic stipulations around quality of service.

We will assist new in-home providers: providing financial incentives where necessary and working one-on-one to help them through the licensing process. We will also pay existing providers to help mentor them. The majority of assistance will be in the form of business consulting services.

PROGRESS SO FAR:

We are in the final stages of opening two new childcare centers in the Moab Valley that together represent a 25% increase in overall supply. We expect both facilities to be licensed by end of July.

Childcare Center at Synergy: At one of our roundtable events we connected Heather Brooks with Synergy. Synergy employs ~80 people in the Moab Valley. Heather is currently a home provider operating out of a rental home providing care to 10 kids. The home she rents is small and Heather desired to move to a larger facility outside of her home. Synergy expressed a desire to offer childcare to their employees to help with retention and recruitment. Synergy had a manufactured home adjacent to their facilities on Resource Blvd. that they weren't fully utilizing. Moab Community Childcare provided free consulting services, meeting weekly with all parties to help manage the project and be an independent third-party to ensure a good outcome for all. The center is expected to open by the end of July and, when fully staffed, will have 24 spots.

“Moab Community Childcare is a remarkable asset to our community. The Synergy Company is exceedingly proud to soon be offering on-site daycare to our staff and others in our community. This simply would not have been feasible without the reliable, consistent, and insightful guidance Moab Community Childcare.” - Thatcher Vagts - CEO of Synergy

Childcare Center at the Lutheran Church: The Lutheran Church, 360 W 400 N, has a very small congregation and its building was only being used on Sundays. They offered to let us use the space rent-free during the week for a childcare center. The building was old and required a number of upgrades and maintenance in order to obtain our business and childcare license. We paid for an outdoor fence, installation of a dishwasher, replaced old lighting fixtures, among many other smaller tasks. We are in the final stages of approval and hope to be fully licensed by end of July. We hope to open our doors a month or two later. We expect this facility, when fully staffed, will add 24 spots.

OVERHEAD - $12,576 This covers other expenses we expect and/or reasonably expect to incur but not included above, such as mileage reimbursements ($0.585/mile, perhaps $5,000 for the year), insurance ($2,100/yr), payroll software ($700/yr), and $5,000 for contingencies.

- Automatically add agenda or minute files to the Document Center to be displayed on a CivicEngage® Central website after they are published in CivicClerk.

Agenda Item:

TITLE:	Approving Independent Contractor Agreement with William M. Guerrero, aka Guerrero Construction
FISCAL IMPACT:	$18,975 (already included in GCAO 2022 Budget)
PRESENTER(S):	Christina Sloan, County Attorney

RECOMMENDATION:

I move to approve the Independent Contractor Agreement with William M. Guerrero, aka Guerrero Construction.

BACKGROUND:

GCAO and GCSO, like many departments, are busting at the seams. Limited office space is negatively effecting efficiency and growth of these departments. For this reason, the Grand County Commission budgeted $20,000 in the 2022 GCAO Budget for new office space.

This contract allows GCAO and GCSO to build out an office into the open space located between GCAO and GCSO. GCSO investigators will move into the new office, which will open to GCSO, and the deputy county attorney will move into the existing investigations office, which will open to GCAO.

GCAO obtained 3 bids. Guerrero Construction was the lowest bid on the fastest timeline.

Description:

Riparian and upland restoration to create watershed level restoration in the Mill Creek Watershed from the upper watershed on Forest Service lands to lower reaches near the town of Moab. Project includes significant restoration activities in the Pack Creek drainage related to the 2021 Pack Creek Fire.

Location:

Mill Creek Watershed from the La Sal Mountains down to the confluence with the Colorado River near Moab, UT. Portions of the Mill Creek and Pack Creek drainages are high-priority CFLRP watersheds.

Project Need

Need For Project:

The Mill Creek Watershed includes Mill and Pack creeks, and provides domestic and irrigation water to areas of Grand and San Juan Counties including Spanish Valley and the City of Moab. Perennial streams on the La Sal Mountains on USFS lands flow through BLM-managed areas in Mill Creek Canyon before entering Moab and finally flowing into the Colorado River. This project maintains and expands upon past efforts improving the primary wildlife links from the La Sal Mountains to the Colorado River. The watershed has been highly impacted by the 2021 Pack Creek Fire which burned over 9000 acres. Combined with significant monsoons this caused damaging flooding, creek downcutting and property loss. Significant work is planned to reduce sediment loading, reduce downcutting, and improve bridges/creek crossings that were damaged in the floods. The USFWS recognizes this area as potential habitat for Southwest Willow Flycatcher, Mexican Spotted Owl and Yellow Billed Cuckoo, and they are also important links between the mountains and the wetlands for larger mammals. The Moab BLM office completed section 7 consultation with USFWS who concurred that the project would benefit these species by including seasonal avoidance measures and by restoring the riparian vegetation community to greater than 85% native species composition within 90% of the riparian areas. Work proposed focuses on reducing fire fuels, improving vegetation diversity to improve wildlife habitat, and maintaining high water quality to improve overall watershed health as well as post fire recovery monitoring and active revegetation work to assist the burned portions of the watershed in recovering quickly..

UPPER WATERSHED (USFS) The riparian corridors in the upper watershed (USFS) are dominated by dense vegetation communities (gambel oak, big sagebrush and pinyon/juniper) and some areas of russian olive and tamarisk. Vegetation density and age in much of the upper watershed is hazardous in the event of a fire; the most recent fire in this area (2021) was an early season fire that was uncharacteristically hot, difficult to control, and was a significant threat to private land, public and firefighter safety (access and egress). Some work in the upper reaches of the watershed will focus on evaluating post Pack Creek Fire recovery conditions in the portions of the watershed that burned in the June 2021 fire to inform any post fire landscape recovery work to be done in the future, and identifying collaborative methods for improving native plant recovery on BLM, private and Forest areas. Floods since this fire have already had significant impacts on downstream areas. Fire fuels reduction treatments in the upper reaches of the Watershed (from Bald Mesa to the new burn scar) will be completed through this project reducing fire hazard in these important parts of the Mill Creek watershed. In addition, there are several acres of salt cedar (Tamarix ramosissima) and Russian Olive (Elaeagnus angustifolia) that have invaded the side drainages of Mill Creek on Forest Service administered lands above Flat Pass. There is a need to further inventory and treat these drainages, as well as inventory Mill Creek for these invasive species and treat if found to increase native plant health and diversity.

MIDDLE WATERSHED (BLM reaches) Mill Creek flows through Mill Creek Canyon which is primarily BLM managed land. This project addresses overall watershed health by improving water quality conditions, improving soil conditions, increasing floodplain functionality, increasing streambank stability, decreasing fire hazards, increasing native plant diversity and densities, and improving wildlife habitats.

LOWER WATERSHED (Private and City reaches) The lowest 3.5 miles of Mill Creek and 5 miles of Pack Creek run through Spanish Valley and the City of Moab, and are dominated by areas of dense woody invasive species where the creek has perennial flow. In the last 5 years there has also been an increase of invasive ravenna grass along both Mill and Pack Creeks increasing fire hazards and reducing native plant diversity. In addition to dangerous levels of fire fuels, the dense woody vegetation in some areas along the creek focuses high water flows into the channel rather than allowing it to spread, resulting in significant downcutting and channelization. This downcutting has lowered the water table along the creek, reduced native riparian vegetation, and increased erosion. Work in these lower reaches is focused on removing invasive species and encouraging native plant regeneration using active methods including seeding and planting container stock, when needed. In a few locations along Pack Creek work in the stream channel will begin the process of reconnecting the channel to its floodplain, further improving vegetation recovery and associated habitat.

Objectives:

- 1) Reduce the risk of further catastrophic wildfires and the associated damage to the watershed as well as protect public safety by reducing the density of invasive plants to less than 5% in the riparian corridor on BLM lands in Mill Creek Canyon; in the lower watershed creating/ improving firebreaks on private lands and working towards a less than 10% of invasive plants in the riparian corridor over the next 5 years.
- 2) Reducing the threat of wildfire to homes and residential areas in the upper reaches of the watershed, as well as the lower reaches through town. On the USFS land this includes reducing pinyon/juniper/oak density on 800 acres creating a mosaic of fuel breaks in the unburned portion of the west slope. to reduce the negative consequences of a high severity wildfire fire on the soil, vegetation and wildlife habitat resources. In the lower reaches of the creeks through Spanish Valley and Moab this will be accomplished by working with private landowners to remove Russian olives and other non native woody species. 3) Improving water quality conditions, especially high nutrient loads, within the watershed through reducing erosion and improving floodplain functionality on BLM managed lands, this water quality conditions would be improved by reducing social trails, restoring disturbed areas and constructing gully control structures and frequent trash removal in the Canyon areas. In the lowest reaches of the stream in town water quality is improved through increasing access to the stream for clean up efforts and improving vegetation cover in the active flood plains. 4) Evaluate post fire recovery in the areas affected by the June 2021 Pack Creek Fire, and perform some active revegetation work to encourage native plant communities return, reduce the spread of exotic species and address some of the flooding issues resulting from the fire. On private land in the Pack Creek Ranch area Emergency Watershed Protection Funding will be used to build in stream structures to protect infrastructure and also improve flood plain functionality and stream channel stability. Collecting baseline data from the fire ignition point to the Pack Creek Road Bridge will help land managers assess EWP project effectiveness, and potentially lead to some additional work in public land areas in the future. 5) Reducing fire fuels hazards and invasive plants in the lower reaches of the creeks, in Spanish Valley and through Moab, by coordinating with landowners and the City and County to create new fire breaks, performing effective follow up treatments, and revegetate areas that are not passively regenerating. In addition, RRR will continue to evaluate the efficacy of removal and revegetation treatments through various monitoring efforts. 6) A final objective for this project is to improve overall watershed health by increasing native plant diversity and densities, improving wildlife habitat conditions, increasing floodplain functionality, and improving stream bank stability.

Threats / Risks:

BLM: This project addresses multiple threats to watershed health and water quality conditions including increasing invasive species as well as increasing erosion and sedimentation from heavy recreation use. The threat from increased invasive woody and non-woody plant concentrations leads to decreased riparian diversity, decreased native plant densities, increased catastrophic wildfire hazards and increased damage from large flood events. These impacts affect both terrestrial and aquatic wildlife habitats. These threats will continue to increase in severity without these treatments. Another threat to the Mill Creek Watershed is degraded water quality. Mill Creek is currently listed for high stream temperatures and high levels of Total Dissolved Solids, and is impacted by surface disturbances within the riparian corridor especially in Mill Creek Canyon. By reducing erosion and revegetating disturbed areas, water quality conditions will be improved along with aquatic habitats. Without this project water quality conditions may continue to degrade. USFS: A Forest Service Fire Regime/Condition Class Assessment identified the Mill Creek watersheds as moderately departed from historic conditions in a mixed severity fire regime. As the final phase of a 4,500 acre project, the proposed 800 acres of treatments in the drainage corridors will reduce the risk of uncharacteristic wildfire throughout the area. The actions provide a combination of physical, biological, social, and environmental benefits while attaining the stated objectives of reducing wildfire risk and improving vegetation conditions. The actions would reduce fuel loading, stand and crown/canopy density, and fire hazards that threaten resources, important watersheds, administrative sites, private property, and the public. Project actions also allow for restoration of important vegetative communities in the forest, using well-documented, effective vegetation treatment methods with little risk of unknown consequences. The treatments are clearly better than not taking action (doing nothing). The risk from taking no action is the potential to negatively impact a variety of resources if a catastrophic fire were to occur. Negative impacts to wildlife habitat and rangeland resources occur if pinyon-juniper continues to increase in density and encroach on natural sagebrush openings, and in previously-treated (chained) areas due to the lack of disturbance. A high-severity fire would almost certainly lead to a noxious weed infestation. Improper livestock grazing can be a threat and risk to riparian areas, however with correctly configured fencing much of the riparian area can be protected while still providing water access to livestock. RRR: In the burned area of Pack Creek near Pack Creek Ranch, and on USFS lands above it, vegetation is already recovering in many areas. In the Pinyon and Juniper dominated areas post fire recovery is less robust than in oak dominated areas, or in aspen and fir areas at higher elevation. While there are limited actions to take in the PJ areas of the burn, collaboration between the USFS, USU, USGS, RRR, private land owners and the BLM has already collected baseline data post fire to evaluate upland recovery. In 2022 and 2023 baseline data will be collected across administrative boundaries in the riparian areas to help inform future management decisions, and ideally encourage rapid and effective action to reduce flood impacts downstream. Work planned in 2022 and 2023 includes in stream structures in the private lands, and some BLM areas. Weed control, seeding and micro erosion control structures in the uplands areas of the burn coupled with robust monitoring efforts will help ensure rapid adjustments to recovery actions. While the precise path of post fire landscape recovery work is unclear at this time, doing nothing will clearly lead to increased flash flood threats downstream, a reduction in function of the riparian areas in the upper watershed, and increased weed presence in the upper watershed. Work planned after careful site monitoring and evaluating passive post fire recovery can improve post fire recovery in native plant components, reducing overland flows by catching some of those flows in flatter upland areas, and stabilizing the channel to help catch moving sediments higher in the watershed before they reach more populated areas downstream. The primary threats to the Mill Creek Watershed include increased invasive woody and non-woody plant concentrations, decreased riparian diversity and native plant density, and increasing fire fuels density and distribution. In order to keep the forward momentum and interest in riparian management, larger scale removal needs to start happening to continue to capture community interest followed by active revegetation in areas where passive regeneration does not occur. If we lose this community push for riparian management, we risk:

- 1) Increasing risk of fires leading to the possible loss of large overstory cottonwoods, homes, and buildings.
- 2) Loss of riparian habitat and reduced native plant diversity and regeneration due to dominance of large woody invasive species.
- 3) Expansion of Russian olive seed sources throughout the valley, into the recently cleared areas of the Matheson Wetlands and the Colorado River corridor.
- 4) Expansion of ravenna grass along riparian corridors

Relation To Management Plan:

This riparian and upland restoration project would help achieve the objectives set forth in the following management plans as described below. Plans are listed from most local to more regional. The Grand County General Plan includes the vision and goal of preserving riparian habitat by improving the condition of land along the Mill Creek corridor. This project would improve riparian habitat by reducing the amount of invasive plant species and increasing native plant diversity and densities in Mill Creek Canyon. Russian Olive trees are included on the Grand County Noxious Weed List, and Ravenna Grass was recently added. This project would reduce the amount of Russian Olive in Mill Creek Canyon. The Grand County Resource Management Plan encourages public land managers to enhance and restore watersheds in the Moab and Spanish Valleys and encourages FFSL to reduce wildfire hazards in the wildland-urban interface. The plan also identifies that invasive weeds should be reduced in order to allow native species to thrive with wildlife corridors that connect natural areas. The plan specifically mentions that riparian habitat should be preserved and restored. This project would reduce the risk of fire, particularly in the wildland-urban interface while reducing invasive weeds such as Tamarisk, Russian Olive, and Ravenna grass. Restoring the riparian area will create more continuous native habitat and improve the watershed by reducing erosion in the creek. The Utah Division of Water Quality (UDWQ) identified Mill Creek as impaired and not meeting state water quality standards in 1998. In 2002 UDWQ completed a Total Maximum Daily Load (TMDL) report with recommendations to improve water quality conditions. These recommendations include improving riparian conditions and decreasing erosion within the watershed. This project would improve riparian conditions by reducing the amount of invasive plant species (Russian Olive and Ravenna Grass) and increasing native plant diversity and densities, by reducing the threat of catastrophic wildfire, and increasing overflow channels, therefore reducing damage from large flood events. This project would also decrease erosion by constructing several small gully control structures directly adjacent to Mill Creek in Mill Creek Canyon. The project is consistent with the Goals and Desired Future Conditions in the Manti-La Sal Forest Land and Resource Management Plan of 1986, as amended. It will:

- * Minimize hazards from wildfire and reduce fuel loading, stand and crown/canopy density, and resultant fire hazard to vegetation, the public, private property, and firefighters (LRMP III-5).
- * Maintain a healthy forest by applying appropriate silvicultural treatments (LRMP III-3).
- * Maintain/improve habitat capability through direct treatment of vegetation (LRMP III-23).
- * Provide habitat needs for deer and elk (LRMP III-19), especially improving the cover:forage ratio.
- * Control noxious weeds and poisonous plants in cooperation with Forest users and State and local agencies. (LRMP III-3)
- * Control and reduce noxious weeds and poisonous plants, using integrated pest management techniques and strategies; including the use of herbicides, biological control agents, and/or mechanical or hand treatments. (LRMP III-25)
- * Invest in range improvements where they will provide the greatest benefit. (LRMP III-3)
- * Give preferential consideration to riparian area dependent resources in cases of unresolvable resource conflicts. (LRMP III-31)

The Grand Conservation District Resource Assessment identifies natural and social resources present in Grand County and details specific areas of concern, including soil erosion and noxious weeds. The assessment cites a need to improve stream banks and riparian areas by removing invasive species and improving native plant communities. This project would reduce the amount of noxious weeds in Mill Creek Canyon, improving riparian conditions and increasing native plant diversity and densities. The Southeast Utah Riparian Partnership (SURP) prepared the Colorado River Woody Invasive Species Management Plan through collaboration with 29 local partners including the Tamarisk Coalition, Grand County Council and the Utah Division of Wildlife Resources. The plan's main objective is to reduce non-native plant species within 80% of high priority streams by 2020. The Mill Creek Watershed is listed as a high-priority area in this plan. This project would reduce the amount of non-native invasive plant species in Mill Creek Canyon. The BLM Moab Field Office 2008 Resource Management Plan (RMP) identifies two objectives that would be accomplished by implementing this plan. Goal/ objective #VEG-9 states "reduce Tamarisk and Russian Olive where appropriate ... and restore riparian habitat to native willow and cottonwood communities". Goal/ objective #WL-8 states "prevent the spread of invasive and non-native plants especially cheatgrass, Tamarisk and Russian Olive. Strive for a dense understory of native species in riparian areas with a reduction in Tamarisk and improvement of cottonwood and willow regeneration." This project would reduce the amount of invasive and non-native plants including Russian Olive and Ravenna Grass in the riparian areas in Mill Creek Canyon, allowing native species such as cottonwoods and willows and native understory species to flourish and regenerate. The 2005 BLM

Utah Riparian Policy states: "riparian areas are to be improved at every opportunity." This project would improve the riparian area by reducing the non-native invasive plant species and increasing native plant species diversity and densities in Mill Creek Canyon. The Utah Wildlife Action Plan, Utah Division of Wildlife Resources, identifies actions needed to protect lowland riparian habitats including restoring degraded habitats. This project would protect lowland riparian habitats by reducing the potential for catastrophic wildfires, reducing the potential for damage from large flood events by increased overflow channels in Mill Creek Canyon, and decreasing sediment loading from gullies adjacent to Mill Creek. The WAP also identifies Western Yellow-billed Cuckoo and Southwestern Willow Flycatcher as species of greatest conservation need. The removal of non-native vegetation followed by revegetation of native species such as cottonwood and willow may create stopover and foraging areas for these species. As willow patches become more dense through time, willow flycatchers may find nesting opportunities within the project area. Big Free-tailed Bat and Allen's Big-eared Bat are also benefited by improvements to the watershed. Threats to these species may be riparian management and disturbance near roost sites. This project will improve the riparian area and also aims to reduce disturbance from recreation by eliminating trails. The Conservation and Management Plan for Three Species in Utah (2006) describes the importance of maintaining populations of roundtail chub, flannelmouth sucker, and bluehead sucker throughout their ranges. One method for maintaining populations is to enhance and maintain habitat by restoring habitat features and altered channels. Increases in water temperature and declines in water quality negatively impact the fish and are only exacerbated by invasive riparian species such as tamarisk. Although these fish are more often found in large rivers, tributary streams are often important for their life cycle. Removal of invasive species and allowing the re-establishment of native vegetation can increase stream complexity as well as reduce temperature. The State Resource Management Plan identifies the importance of the Watershed Restoration Initiative. It specifically mentions support for efforts to reduce wildfire and the associated soil loss from erosion and sedimentation. It talks specifically about improving wildlife populations and reducing the risk of additional listing of species under the Endangered Species Act. Additionally, the plan identifies the importance of improving resistance to invasive plant species, specifically mentioning that healthy ecosystems are the most effective way of preventing the spread of noxious weeds. The state supports the proposals proactive management of noxious weeds. This project will reduce the risk of fire by removing flammable, invasive vegetation from the riparian area and allowing for the establishment of native species which provide better habitat for sensitive wildlife species. The Southwestern Willow Flycatcher Recovery Plan identifies the removal of exotic plants as important for the recovery of this species. This project would reduce the amount of exotic plants such as Russian Olive and Ravenna Grass in Mill Creek Canyon. The Utah Fire Amendment has a goal to reduce hazard fuels. The full range of fuel reduction methods is authorized, consistent with forest and management area emphasis and direction. * Certain vegetative types are to be managed such that varying successional stages will be present to provide for a high level of vegetative diversity and productivity (III-2). * Pinyon-juniper stands on gentle slopes and on lands with good soils will be treated periodically to maintain early successional stages (III-8). Black rosy-finch have been documented using burned or treated pinyon-juniper habitat for winter foraging on the La Sals. These early seral habitats produce the grass and forb seeds these birds rely on in the winter. * Intensive management practices would maintain structural diversity within the woody species in at least 25 percent of the area covered by the Gambel oak and mountain shrub type. In some cases, the Gambel oak would be encouraged to successionally develop as an open savannah or in a high seral stage (III-9). Designated as a Healthy Forest Restoration Act (2003) project, the treatments meet the mandate for the Forest Service to restore fire dependent ecosystems and reduce fire risk to people and property. Project actions are consistent with proposed management in the Moab/Spanish Valley Wildfire Protection Plan and the Southeastern Utah Regional Wildfire Protection Plan. The Statewide Mule Deer Plan specifies management actions for important ranges: convert habitats back to young, vigorous shrub-dominated communities; manage portions of pinyon-juniper ranges in early successional stages. The La Sal Deer Unit Management Plan has an objective of improving deer habitat and carrying capacity, and pursuing cooperative projects to improve the quality and quantity of deer habitat. The project meets several objectives In the Statewide Elk Herd plan: support habitat improvement projects that increase forage for big game and livestock, initiate vegetative treatment projects to improve elk habitat on winter ranges, improve upper elevation winter ranges to encourage elk to winter at higher elevation than mule deer. The project is specified in the 2012 La Sal Elk Herd Management Plan as a habitat improvement project. There are 3 Key Terrestrial Habitat types from the Utah Wildlife Action Plan in the project area. The West Slope project treatments follow the management strategies for these types: restoration in the Gambel oak type by cutting/mulching invading pinyon-juniper, single tree mulching/cutting invading conifer in the mountain sagebrush type, reducing fire risk (uncharacteristic fire could increase the spread and dominance of invasive weeds) in the mountain shrub type through appropriate treatment methods. The Golden Eagle, a species of greatest conservation need in the WAP, may also benefit from this project by increasing habitat for prey species thus improving foraging opportunities for eagles. The Utah Wild Turkey Management Plan has a goal of maintaining and improving wild turkey populations by stabilizing populations. Suggested methods include reducing the risk of catastrophic events such as fire as well as conducting habitat projects to address limiting factors. The plan has an objective of increasing habitat quality and quantity through habitat improvement projects. This project will reduce the risk of a catastrophic fire impacts to turkey habitat in the Mill Creek area. It will also enhance native plants available for diverse foraging opportunities by turkey while retaining mature acorn-producing trees and adequate cover. The Grand County CWPP updated in 2020 identifies the La Sals and the Mill Creek Watershed as one of three priority areas due to private holdings within the BLM and National Forest. Fuel Reduction on private land is considered a high impact high priority activity on the La Sals and Mill Creek Watershed as the plan is currently written. The Moab Valley CWPP updated in 2020 identifies the Pack Creek Corridor as priority area 1 and the Mill Creek Corridor as priority area 2 for fuel reduction work in Moab Valley. The Southeast Utah Catastrophic Fire working group has designated the Moab/Spanish Valley area (including Mill Creek) as a High Priority Focus Area. The Utah Forest Action Plan (FAP) identifies the Mill Creek watershed as a part of the La Sal priority area, one of five priority areas identified in the FAP. Wildland fire and wildlife habitat loss were two of the top concerns for all priority areas identified in the FAP.

Fire / Fuels:

BLM: The proposed project would significantly reduce the risk of wildfire and reduce the continuity of hazardous fuels, particularly ladder fuels that build up under Russian olives and are created by Ravenna grass. The entire Mill Creek riparian corridor is connected by fairly dense riparian vegetation and if a fire were to start in this corridor, it has the potential to be a large-scale catastrophic burn. The potential for a wildfire caused by human ignition is high in the heavier use areas on BLM managed lands. Removing Russian olives and Ravenna Grass not only reduces fuel loads but also isolates smaller fuel load areas. If a fire were to start, the chance of a large scale catastrophic fire would be greatly minimized as the fire would be more accessible and suppressed more easily, and may not spread as rapidly. The relatively intact habitat corridor from the La Sal Mountains to the Colorado River would also be protected. Continuing this work is more important now with increased recreation uses in Mill Creek Canyon raising the potential for human caused fires, and with more frequent drought years making fuels drier for a longer portion of the year. USFS: The project area is bounded on the west by BLM and private lands and Forest Service lands on the south, east, and north sides. There are private inholdings within the project area, and the 3700 acres already treated by the Forest Service are immediately adjacent to the inholdings with homes and other structures. All proposed treatment locations are within 1.5 miles of private inholdings/Forest boundary. This is an authorized hazardous fuel project as defined by The Healthy Forest Restoration Act of 2003 (HFRA), designed to reduce vegetation density and ladder fuels to reduce the probability of a high severity wildfire in the 8300 acre project area that encompasses five private inholdings with residences, outbuildings, and infrastructure, as well as key public communication systems (Bald Mesa communication site/radio towers), utility lines and Moab's Mill Creek municipal watershed. This proposal will reduce live and dead fuels within the riparian corridors in the treatment area. The reduced fire risk will benefit National Forest lands and improvements by aiding in protection from fires (natural and man-caused) which spread from private lands, developed recreation sites, dispersed recreation areas, and other areas of the National Forest. It will also aid in the protection of private infrastructure from fires that initiate on and spread from the National Forest. RRR and FFSL: This proposal seeks to reduce the threat and intensity of fire by creating and expanding several fire breaks on private lands along vulnerable stretches of Mill and Pack Creeks in the lower reaches of the creeks. These fire breaks are designed to break up contiguous fuel loading and protect ecological and human values along these riparian corridors. According to UWRAP (Utah Wildfire Risk Assessment Portal), there are high and very high levels of fire risk along a large portion of these riparian corridors, which means there is a high likelihood of loss or harm in the event of a fire. This was proven to be true in the 2018 Cinema Court fire, in which 8 homes were lost in hours along Pack Creek. The community has since voiced desire for fire protection, and Pack Creek will be prioritized for fire resiliency. In Mill and Pack Creeks in the Moab valley, nonnative woody species (Russian olive and tamarisk) have largely replaced fire-resilient natives such as willows, sumac, and cottonwoods. Ravenna grass, a nonnative and fast-growing ornamental bunchgrass, has also been outcompeting natives along these creeks. Contiguous loading of these species serves as a serious wildfire threat for the riparian area. Russian olive, tamarisk and Ravenna have created a dense understory of growth below native cottonwood trees. They all produce large quantities of volatile fuels that allow fire to spread vertically and reach native canopy cover, creating devastating crown fires in the cottonwoods. The current fuel loading also exacerbates the speed and intensity with which fire moves horizontally. Furthermore, fire spread and intensity are more extreme when there is an extended drought in the area or a buildup of dead and senescent material in the tamarisk crowns, as is currently the case. Removal efforts are expected to reduce the risk of catastrophic fire by reducing volatile fuel loads in some of the more choked sections of the creeks. It will also allow better creek access for fire personnel in the event of a fire. This will not only improve firefighter safety, it will also protect the homes and structures adjacent to the creek. Additionally, removing the invasive vegetation will promote the establishment of under-story native vegetation and will reduce soil erosion, which is critical to maintaining riparian ecosystem resilience.

Water Quality/Quantity:

Mill Creek and Pack Creek are perennial streams that drain the Mill Creek Watershed and are listed by the State of Utah Division of Water Quality (UDWQ) as not meeting the state water quality standards associated with assigned beneficial uses. Parameters of concern include high stream temperatures,

E.coli bacteria and high levels of Total Dissolved Solids (TDS). In 2002, UDWQ prepared a TMDL report recommending actions to improve water quality conditions including improving riparian and streambank conditions. The Mill Creek Watershed is designated as a "Sole Source Aquifer" by the EPA to protect the shallow unconfined aquifer that provides drinking water to the residents of Moab and Spanish Valley. This designation is recognized by both the BLM and USFS in their respective management plans, and certain surface disturbing activities are not allowed on federal lands in the Mill Creek Watershed. This project would improve water quality conditions over both the short and long term by increasing the functional integrity of riparian areas and floodplains, by improving soil and vegetation conditions in the uplands, and by reducing the risk of severe wildfires. Conducting fire rehab in the Pack Creek drainage would also improve water quality conditions, reducing accelerated erosion and sediment loading due to the 2021 wildfire. Invasive plants such as Russian olive and tamarisk constrain stream channels, clog overflow channels, increase streambank erosion while reducing native tree and shrub regeneration. Reducing the density of invasive plant species in the riparian corridor would increase the functional integrity of the riparian corridor by improving floodplain connectivity, increase streambank stability which reduces erosion during larger flood events, and increase bank storage in times of high runoff allowing higher releases of shallow groundwater during periods of low stream flows. These actions would reduce stream temperatures in the summer months and reduce sediment loads year-round, improving water quality conditions.. Improving upland soil and vegetation conditions by managing high use recreation areas and trails, re-seeding disturbed areas and by constructing small erosion control structures would lead to improved water quality conditions in Mill Creek. Better upland conditions include improved infiltration rates, reduced overland flow and associated erosion and sediment loading to Mill Creek. By reducing the risk of catastrophic wildfires in the watershed, the potential for associated damage including reduced soil infiltration, increased erosion and loss of topsoil, long term loss of soil productivity, and accelerated sediment loading to the system would be avoided. This project would reduce the risk of severe large scale wildfires by clearing fuels from riparian areas and drainages. Treatment of drainages that could act as funnels during a wildfire would further protect riparian areas. In the recently burned areas of the watershed, evaluation work and EWP funded in stream structures will lead to a more informed approach to managing flood flows off the uppermost areas of the Pack Creek drainage. By determining the effectiveness of EWP structures and possibly adding similar structures in key locations on public lands, actively moving sediments can be captured higher up in the system rebuilding flood plains and encouraging riparian plant development, thereby increasing the flood capacity in the long term. This project has the potential to increase water quantity or availability in the watershed. By removing denser stands of invasive plant species from the riparian corridor, and thinning oak and Pinyon/Juniper in the upland USFS lands, more water would be available to native plants. By improving floodplain connectivity and functionality throughout the watershed, natural hydrologic streambank storage processes would improve. Water during higher runoff periods recharges small banks and point bars. Stored water is released during periods of low stream flows, enhancing instream flows and available water. By improving soil and vegetation conditions in the upland areas, with increased infiltration rates and decreased runoff rates, and increased bank storage, water quantities would increase throughout the watershed.

Compliance:

The proposed project is ready for implementation on BLM lands. An environmental assessment has been completed and approved. This NEPA work included consultation with the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service regarding the Endangered Species Act. All Pesticide Use Approvals and archaeological clearances have been completed. The Forest Service lands have an Environmental Assessment and Decision Notice/FONSI completed May 8, 2015. The Decision complies with all applicable laws and regulations, including the ESA, MBTA, ARPA and NHPA and the Healthy Forests Restoration Act (HFRA). The Forest Service completed an Environmental Assessment and Decision Notice/FONSI in 1993 regarding the control of noxious weeds on the La Sal Division. In 2000, a supplemental report updated the 1993 EA and found that the environmental effects disclosed were still relevant, that no additional analysis was required and that the decision could continue to be implemented. The Forest treats 1000-1500 acres of noxious weeds/year under this decision. Project work on private lands and in the City of Moab would be coordinated with the Grand County Weed Dept, and would not need any compliance approvals, however work done between 2015 and 2018 through EPA 319 funding required archeological clearance, which has been completed for the entire Mill and Pack Creek areas in the Moab Valley where work may occur on this project. This project has been designed to minimize impacts to the Southwestern Willow Flycatcher, native fish populations and their habitats.

Methods:

Methods used in this project vary by location and by the goals and targets within each area. Russian olive removal will involve youth corps chainsaw crews cutting trees and applying herbicide to the cut stumps. In town, slash is mulched and spread to reduce annual non native plant establishment. In more remote areas of BLM lands, slash materials will be cut into smaller pieces, then scattered or piled or hauled away from treatment sites as site conditions require. Youth corps crews will also treat Ravenna grass. Ravenna grass plants may be dug up by hand, and the entire root ball removed from the stream bank or may be treated with herbicides to keep root systems intact. Seedheads on Ravenna grass will be removed to reduce seed heads. Daily trail work and trash pickup at the heavily used Powerdam area of Mill Creek Canyon will continue. BLM: 1) Russian Olive trees over 6" in diameter will be frill cut and treated with herbicide and left standing. 2) Russian Olive trees less than 6" in diameter will be cut, and the stumps will be treated with approved herbicide within 15 minutes of cutting. No more than 30% of canopy would be removed at any one time. 3) Slash will be cut into 1-2' long pieces and scattered if there is room. Slash may be carried out of more heavily used recreation areas to reduce safety hazards to the public. Slash may be piled in 4' x 5' piles. 4) Native plants may be planted or native seed spread in heavily disturbed areas. 5) Small erosion control structures will be constructed in small gullies to reduce erosion and associated sediment loading to Mill Creek. 6) Trash pickup and trail management will be conducted frequently, with volunteer groups helping whenever possible. 7) Youth crews and the Grand County Weed Dept will treat Ravenna grass with herbicides. Ravenna grass plants may be dug up by hand, and the entire root ball removed from the stream bank or may be treated with herbicides to keep root systems intact. 8) Seedheads on Ravenna grass will be cut, bagged and removed to reduce spread by seed. 9) Native plants will be planted where Ravenna Grass plants are removed from the stream banks. 10) Fire rehab includes seeding and small erosion control structures to reduce erosion USFS Fuels: Burning slash piles within these drainages (800 acres) to reduce hazardous fuels built up by previous (FY22) cut and pile treatments. Removal of these fuels will reduce the likelihood of negative effects from wildfire. Pile burning will be >50 feet from drainages. USFS Invasives: See BLM and RRR methods. However, FS inventory shows that we have no trees over 6 inch diameter, and likely all individuals found will be treated rather than leaving 30% as we do not have the high density of invasives as the areas further downstream in Mill Creek. FS Pack Creek fence: About 3/4 mile of four strand, barbed wire fence and cattle guard installed to prevent cows from accessing the 1/2 mile of creek on FS and 3/4 mile of Pack Creek on private land. RRR and FFSL: Despite the high density of Russian olive and other invasive trees present along most of Mill Creek, gradual removal of olive, tamarisk and elm has resulted natural regeneration of native plants including golden currant, willow, woods rose, three-leaf sumac, cottonwood, grasses and forbs in large areas. This is also proving true along Pack Creek. The primary guiding principle for this project is pacing removal of invasive plants at a rate that allows native plant regeneration to naturally occur. In areas where natural regeneration is not occurring, or the area is sensitive enough to require more rapid revegetation, active planting using poles and potted plants is being done. Treatment methods fall into three broad categories as outlined below, and as noted on the proposal map. 1. Large Scale Removal: In areas where removal has not yet begun, larger trees in densely infested areas will be hand cut, piled and mulched with locations selected to create effective fire breaks (near hydrants or other access points). As these critical breaks are completed clearing will focus around native trees and shrubs, and next on areas linking existing native plant stands. 2. Follow up treatments (weed wrenching and/or resprout and sapling cutting with herbicide, or basal bark treatments): New saplings will be pulled with weed wrenches and resprouts cut and treated with Garlon 4 (or other approved herbicides). In these areas other weed species will be addressed using mechanical or chemical means as is deemed most effective. Fine fuels (mostly herbaceous exotic species) will be reduced through mowing wherever possible. 3. Revegetation activities will occur in areas where it is needed to help stabilize banks, or where natural native plant regeneration needs assistance, willow wattles, pole plantings, or potted plants will be installed. Most areas will not be seeded due to the readily available seed source surrounding most treatment areas - but areas where native plants have been slow to recover will be seeded. Primary work in the lower watershed through this proposal will be replanting and seeding using longstem techniques, pole planting and seeding 4. In the Pack Creek Ranch area gambel oak areas will be evaluated and fuel breaks will be established to reduce future fire hazard and increase riparian vegetation diversity. When the EWP process is complete additional planting and seeding of missing species will also improve diversity in the riparian areas. Upland area micro erosion structures will help capture sediment and water upstream of the channel, reducing flood flows and increasing native plant recovery in the upland areas. Seeding in upland areas will improve diversity of recovery in these locations.

Monitoring:

Each participating collaborator is performing monitoring in their areas. By including work from the top of the watershed to the river, mapping of exotic plant presence will be better connected, which is particularly important with new invaders like ravenna grass. In the upper watershed the USFS is performing the following monitoring: * Prescribed (pile) burning will be supervised by a qualified Burn Boss to ensure that implementation is completed in accordance with NEPA, Silvicultural Prescription and Burn Plan. * Existing or new weed populations will be treated in accordance with existing noxious weed management decisions. * An interdisciplinary review will be conducted following implementation (within two years) to determine if project objectives have been met and to determine whether implementation of SWCPs has been effective. * Photo points will be established in each treatment type (mastication, hand-thinning) to identify pre and post-treatment conditions, as well as long-term monitoring points for future reference. Post-treatment photos will be taken within one season of completion. * Three migratory bird point-count transects were established in the project area in 2007, and each has been sampled at least 5 times. Post-treatment surveys will be conducted. * Monitoring nests of raptors in the project area (peregrine falcon and golden eagle) will be continued annually. Invasives: Invasive treatments sites are inventoried and monitored annually to document effectiveness and continue with treatments as needed. Fence: Implementation monitoring to ensure correct construction of fence. Pack Creek Water Company and private residents to monitor and maintain the fence. POST FIRE RESTORATION ACTION MONITORING In 2021 the USGS, USU, USFS, BLM and RRR initiated data collection to evaluate post fire recovery in the area burned in June 2021. Utah State University (USU) will oversee continued monitoring of the post-fire restoration action in the La Sal mountains following the June 2021 fire. The Pack Creek fire represents not only a critical need for restoration action on burned landscapes, but also an opportunity to learn more about how to increase restoration success following wildfire. Work in FY 2023 will resample the 30 sites that were first sampled on FS, BLM, and private land in November & December 2021 using the U.S. Forest Service's Forest Inventory and Analysis (FIA) methods and the Bureau of Land Management's Assessment, Inventory, and Monitoring (AIM) methods. The collected data will inform how past thinning efforts are influencing burned area recovery and the effect of FS post-fire seeding treatments on vegetation recovery and trajectory. Taken together, the data collected here will provide crucial information to land managers about the effectiveness of thinning and seeding in achieving the desired management goals after wildfire in this region and will help inform any additional post fire revegetation actions in these areas. POST FIRE CHANNEL MORPHOLOGY MONITORING In the newly burned areas Channel Morphology Monitoring will be included in 2022. Flood flows since the fire are moving large amounts of sediment, debris and boulders throughout the upper portions of the creek. EWP funding will implement some in stream structures on the private areas of the burn, and the existing bridges at the USFS boundary and on BLM at Pack Creek Road as well as the Desert Solitaire crossing already act as instream structures. Longitudinal transects and associated cross sections will provide important information to inform future channel work. The USFS, BLM and private land owners will monitor changes to the channel from the Pack Creek Picnic area to the Pack Creek Road Bridge over the coming years to track the trend of channel morphology and responses to flooding events to help better inform actions both above and below the private land infrastructure. Both quantitative and qualitative data will be collected following the methods defined in the Stream Channel Reference Sites USFS document (General Technical Report RM - 245). Longitudinal profiles will be collected in six areas - 2 on the Forest above the private lands, one in the private land area, and 3 on BLM above the Pack Creek Road Bridge. At least 3 cross sections will be taken in the longitudinal profiles to capture important channel features (e.g. floodplains, point bars, terraces, pools etc). Data will be collected at least every 5 years, but annually if possible in the first 5 years as change is expected to be more extreme during that time and in stream work will be implemented in the private land areas during that time. MILL CREEK CANYON (MIDDLE WATERSHED) In the Middle Watershed, BLM monitoring will evaluate the success of this treatment and to determine what other work is needed to achieve project objectives. This monitoring work will involve long term photo points, vegetation monitoring, multiple indicator monitoring (MIM) and water quality sampling. Water quality investigations will be conducted in cooperation with the Moab Area Watershed Partnership and the local UDWQ watershed coordinator, as part of a watershed wide water quality study. A comprehensive monitoring report will be completed after project implementation is completed. LOWER WATERSHED MONITORING In the Lower Watershed, RRR monitoring will focus on containerized plant mortality monitoring to continue to gauge success of revegetation projects as well as invasive species mapping (with a focus on exotic herbaceous species).

Partners:

The Moab Area Watershed Partnership is a local group of water users, water and land managers that work together to resolve water related issues in the Mill Creek Watershed. This group supports this project proposal and has helped with related monitoring efforts. Moab Solutions is a local non-profit organization that works closely with BLM on resource protection efforts in Mill Creek Canyon, especially working on trail management and trash pickup. The Grand County Weed Dept is supportive of this project and has been an active partner with implementation on BLM and private lands, focusing on Ravenna Grass treatments. The Bureau of Land Management manages lands in Mill Creek Canyon and the Pack Creek subwatershed and is committed to improving watershed health, mitigating impacts from increased recreation and from increased invasive plants. The Utah Division of Water Quality (UDWQ) is a partner on BLM actions in the Mill Creek Watershed, providing funding and technical support on a multi-year basis. This work is important to UDWQ as it is improving water quality conditions and protecting beneficial uses including recreation, wildlife and livestock throughout the watershed. This project is identified on the Manti-La Sal National Forest Five-Year Integrated Vegetation Management Plan (USDA Forest Service 2005-2014), which has been coordinated with other Federal, State, and local agencies as part of our collaborative fuels management program. The State of Utah and Grand and San Juan County, Utah officials have been contacted and support implementation of this project. It is consistent with proposed management in the Moab/Spanish Valley Wildfire Protection Plan and the Southeastern Utah Regional Wildfire Protection Plan (Utah Division of Forestry, Fire, and State Lands 2007). Another beneficial effect of the extensive public participation in the planning process was that it continued to elevate the need to have private landowners take responsibility for providing fire safe fuel conditions and structures on their own properties. The Forest Service also partners with the San Juan Cooperative Weed management area in the control of noxious weeds throughout San Juan County. Rim to Rim Restoration (RRR) has been working on olive and tamarisk removal and native plant regeneration along Mill and Pack Creeks in the lower reaches since approximately 2004, and was involved with mapping and project work in the BLM areas in the late 1990s and early 2000s. RRR works with private landowners, government agencies and others to facilitate work and connect efforts across administrative boundaries. The Pack Creek Ranch community has enthusiastically joined in supporting efforts in Pack Creek, especially in the burned areas. Moab Valley Fire Department (MVFD): RRR have been working closely with the Moab Valley Fire Department to begin to coordinate efforts between agencies and landowners to remove invasives from Mill and Pack creeks. They have helped identify areas to remove as well as providing maps and other tools to identify important areas to remove. Utah Conservation Corps (UCC): Utah Conservation Corps has long been a partner in invasive species removal in this area. UCC has worked closely with land managers in this area and is uniquely qualified to provide consistent and efficient logistical support and project implementation on projects in the Moab area. The regional coordinator is intimately familiar with these project sites and what treatments work best in our region. Forestry, Fire and State Lands: FFSL as well as the Moab Valley Fire Department have been a part of the working group that has begun to coordinate the gathering of landowner needs for clearing of Mill and Pack creeks. The City of Moab: The City of Moab has been key in working with MVFD and Grand County to identify important removal areas for fire safety along the creek. Team Rubicon: Team Rubicon helped with the initial removal of burned material from the Cinema Court Fire along Pack Creek and in Spring 2022 may use Mill and Pack Creeks as a chainsaw training location for a large volunteer crew . Private Landowners: In addition to the above-mentioned partners open meetings have been held to gather landowners that are adjacent to either Mill or Pack creeks. These are ongoing to gauge what needs these landowners have for removal efforts and to help them reach their own neighbors to work towards removal of invasive woody biomass. Most of the creek bottom land in Moab and Spanish Valley are privately owned so these individual landowners are key to organize removal efforts. The Utah Division of Wildlife Resources has been involved with project related activities for many years now. We have provided input to reduce impacts to birds and have helped acquire services to accomplish project related activities. USU Extension and the USGS have recently partnered in this project, with a focus on monitoring in the upper watershed.

Future Management:

BLM: Future management of the Mill Creek Watershed will continue to support the goals of this project. BLM designated this watershed as a municipal watershed, with no new surface disturbing activities allowed. Most of the BLM lands in the Mill Creek Watershed are within the Mill Creek Area of Critical Environmental Concern (ACEC) based on important ecological resources as well as within the Mill Creek Wilderness Study Area (WSA). Grazing activities have been suspended indefinitely in Mill Creek Canyon to protect the important ecological and archaeological resources, therefore there is more forage available for wildlife. Grazing will continue in the Pack Creek subwatershed as vegetation conditions recover with fire rehab actions. USFS: The area of Forest Service lands within this proposal are managed for multiple use. The area will continue to be managed for uses such as grazing, recreation including hunting, wildlife and overall ecosystem health. Mechanical treatments as well as prescribed fire will continue to be a way to maintain diverse age classes and vegetation communities in the area. The oak, mountain brush and sagebrush areas have an herbaceous understory component, so the need for seeding is not anticipated in this phase. No changes to livestock management are anticipated at this time, but utilization and trend monitoring will continue and adaptive management can be applied if required. It has been reviewed and there is no need for a change of the current grazing rotation, the area is seeing natural succession and there is a need for diversity of different states of plant communities in the area. The La Sal deer herd is well under 50% of population objective, this project will help to promote better deer habitat conditions and could help move towards objective. Elk on the La Sals are at objective, this project will help maintain healthy elk herds on the La Sals. Turkey populations are increasing on the La Sals, this project will help provide diversity of forage and habitat conditions. DWR will continue to strive to achieve and maintain objectives for big game and turkeys according to management plans on the La Sal Mountains. RRR: Future management on Mill and Pack creeks will include follow-up in treated areas to maintain the progress that has been made so far, some initial entry, and revegetation work with less fire-prone native species. As work in the creeks progresses, Rim to Rim will focus more on community-based facilitation of these projects, planning, revegetation and connecting resources to projects, and less on running day to day operations on-site, especially with FFSL WUI focusing more on work in the creeks, and providing oversight. Rim to Rim is working with the City, County and Moab Valley Fire Department to create resilient firebreaks and improve communication paths to coordinate mitigation efforts and long-term follow-up, providing a solid framework for sustained coordination. RRR is applying for AIM funding to include the purchase of two brush cutters to increase fine fuels reduction. USU and USGS's assistance with post fire vegetation monitoring will help inform future management efforts in the upper reaches of the watershed. The EWP work in the private areas that burned will also be monitoring and potentially additional stream channel work will be done in the coming years. There are opportunities for reconnecting Pack creek's channel to its flood plain at least one location on private land through the use of native plants and gabion structures to slow flows and encourage natural processes that will encourage groundwater recharge.

This work has been funded, permits are in place and the first efforts will be made along Pack Creek in town in 2022.

Sustainable Uses of Natural Resources:

BLM: This project would provide more sustainable uses of natural resources due to improved watershed health. Domestic livestock and wildlife, both aquatic and terrestrial, would benefit from improved watershed conditions in the Pack Creek portion of the watershed from the post fire rehab actions. Although there is no grazing currently authorized on BLM lands within Mill Creek Canyon, both upland and aquatic wildlife habitats would be improved from this project. These improvements include increased forage for wildlife species, increased pools and habitat diversity for native fish, and more habitat connectivity for all wildlife species. With the heavy recreation use in parts of Mill Creek Canyon, this project will allow use to continue while protecting natural resources.

USFS: The project area is part of three allotments. As part of a larger project, the treatments have decreased the amount of woody vegetation (especially pinyon-juniper and oak) within much of the grazed areas in these allotments. This has led to an increased production of herbaceous vegetation (grass and forb species) on all 4500 treated acres, as these woody species crowd out all other vegetation. Soil health is relatively poor under pinyon/juniper canopies which may lead to more erosion, water pollution, and early snowmelt. Historically there has been repeated and heavy livestock and wildlife grazing due to large concentrations on a small number of acres. Decreasing the amount of woody vegetation increases soil health and allows for a more even distribution of livestock and wildlife which will limit the amount that they compete for habitat and nutrition. Even distribution is also linked with soil health, as there will be lighter use. Less woody encroachment leads to greater spring flow which is also a tool to help with distribution of livestock and wildlife. Noxious weeds are not expected to increase or spread as a result of the treatments as best management practices will be implemented. Treatment should decrease the risk of spreading of noxious weeds. Range trend studies showed little cheatgrass in the areas to be treated and the risk of cheatgrass being established as a result of the project is very low, due to the existing diversity and healthy grass production of most of the understory layers and because of the elevation. Any other noxious weeds in the area would continue to be treated. In the short-term there could be some interruption of grazing operations; however, the long-term benefits to the range resource outweigh the short-term negative impacts that may have to occur to individual permit holders such as resting pastures or exclusion of livestock from areas. Livestock will still be able to continue to graze in the area above the private in-holding in Pack Creek and have access to a small part of Pack Creek for water. In the future, off-site water developments will decrease livestock need of accessing the creek for water.

Pack Creek - Because of the recent Pack Creek fire, the Forest Service will be resting portions of allotments that were impacted by the fire for a period of 2-3 years. Grazing will only resume when land managers determine it to be sustainable based on the current regeneration of vegetation.

RRR: Work done along Mill and Pack creeks over the past 15 years has opened up areas that have not been visible for over 25 years -- allowing consideration of infiltration projects that will also improve the flood capacity of the riparian area by allowing water to spread out and soak in during large events rather than simply rush down a tight channel, downcutting and eroding as it flows. The project also has the potential to both improve and increase forage along both creeks with the removal of dense and dead stands of woody invasives. The removal of these invasives will open up the understory and will allow for increases in native grasses and forbs which are more desirable for grazing and for many native species. Invasives removal will also allow for greater access to the creek for livestock and for wildlife. There is currently no grazing along this part of the project area. Some of the project area is located on public land owned by the City of Moab. This project has the opportunity to improve recreation areas along Mill and Pack creeks by opening more vegetation choked land to use as well as improving barren areas by planting native species through the NPS 319 funds for this project.

Dolores River Restoration 6.0 - Utah

WRI Region: Southeastern

Description:

This project will help enhance and restore 224 acres along the Dolores River in Grand County through: (1) Woody invasive removal underneath two large cottonwood galleries with vehicle access and additional removal in raft-only accessible areas; (2) Control of herbaceous weeds & tamarisk re-sprouts using a combination of herbicide application and seeding; (3) Native Fish Sampling within newly reconnected side channel at the berm site, and (4) Active revegetation of native woody species.

Location:

Work will occur on prioritized sites along the Dolores River, between the State-line site (river-mile 149) and Robert's Bottom (river-mile 170), in Grand County, Utah. Sites have been prioritized based on DRRP's ecological, social, feasibility criteria, and locations of side channel/confluence habitat. For more specifics on locations of specific restoration treatments, please refer to the accompanying map and/or the project details page.

Project Need

Need For Project:

The establishment of tamarisk, Russian olive, and other non-native invasive plants along the Dolores River during the 20th century negatively impacted riparian and aquatic habitats. Dense stands of tamarisk displaced native plants, degraded fish and wildlife habitat, reduced forage for livestock and wildlife, limited human access to the river, interfered with the natural fluvial processes of the river and increased the risk of severe wildfires within native cottonwood stands. The impacts of tamarisk on aquatic habitats are sometimes not fully quantified, but tamarisk tends to eliminate side channel and backwater habitats that provide critical spawning and nursery habitat for native fish, particularly in regulated rivers, by trapping sediments, reducing in-stream habitat complexity in a manner that negatively impacts rare native fishes, and reducing the input of key nutrients that support aquatic food webs (Graf 1978, Geological Society of American Bulletin 89:1149-1501; Bailey et al. 2001, Wetlands 21:442-447; Keller et al. 2014, Environmental Management 54:465-478). Inventory and monitoring of riparian habitats by Tamarisk Coalition (now RiversEdge West) and the University of Denver revealed a pattern of establishment and spread of very dense stands of tamarisk accompanied by the displacement of diverse native plant communities along major stretches of the Dolores River. Beginning in 2009, the Dolores River Restoration Partnership (DRRP), which includes participants from a variety of public and private organizations (including four BLM field offices in Utah and Colorado), identified and began treating over 1,900 acres of impacted riparian habitat dominated by tamarisk and other invasive plants in an effort to restore native vegetation and improve the quality of riparian and riverine habitats. The DRRP continues to treat tamarisk and other noxious woody and herbaceous vegetation upstream in Colorado and has completed 1,931 acres of initial tamarisk removal, 2,600 acres of tamarisk re-sprouts, 3,767 acres of secondary weed treatments, and 612 acres of active revegetation since 2009 in Colorado and Utah. The proposed project builds upon previous efforts and is needed to complete the initial removal of tamarisk underneath mature cottonwood galleries that occur within larger cottonwood gallery complexes. This project will also provide follow-up maintenance of woody invasive re-sprouts at other sites including the recently inundated side-channel portion of the berm removal site that provides important habitat for juvenile native fish. Finally, this project seeks to enhance understory conditions at several previously treated areas by treating secondary weeds and revegetating certain sites with native tree cuttings and seed. One area where maintenance and enhancement activities will occur is at the berm site at Stateline between river mile 150-151. The flow path of the newly reconnected side channel is now evident, particularly in 2019 with high flows, and previous work to clear the flow path of non-natives was successful. Very little follow-up maintenance is required at this time except for isolated individual Russian olives re-sprouts. Minimal maintenance efforts at this site will prevent re-infestation and proliferation of Russian olive and will continue to allow the side channel to flow freely when hydrologic conditions allow. Initial invasive removal focusing on removing ladder fuels and competition underneath and adjacent to the native cottonwood stand across from the berm site (river right) was completed in 2019 and 2020 under the Dolores 3.0 and 4.0 projects. Native shrubs are also prolific at this site mixed in with the tamarisk. One more season of work is necessary to complete the removal of both tamarisk and Russian olive at this location. In the Beaver Creek to Rio Mesa reach (river mile 155-160), 2 sites have been prioritized for initial removal efforts and 4 sites from 2018/2019 will be evaluated and treated for re-sprouts. The establishment of tamarisk in this area has altered fluvial processes and increased rates of sedimentation, leading to the loss of the side channel, which historically served as important spawning and juvenile habitats for sensitive and endangered fishes. Impacts to native riparian vegetation and wildlife have been equally significant. Many of these areas have an adequate cover of native species and are expected to recover through passive regeneration. These 6 sites can only be accessed by raft during high water which coincides with the presence of Southwestern Willow Flycatcher. Similar to our 2017 (Dolores 1.0) and 2019 (Dolores 3.0) campaign, a bird biologist will need to assess bird occupancy ahead of the raft crews. Three "contingency" units have been identified in the Rio Mesa to the Colorado River Confluence reach between river mile 163-165. If the upstream raft units can't be treated because of the presence of SWFL then work will be initiated on these sites. A raft trip was not possible in 2020 or 2021 under the Dolores 4.0 and 5.0 projects due to a lack of flows to allow a boat through. If flows in 2023 are not adequate to boat crews in, those resources will be allocated to upstream Roberts Bottom site during the same time frame. That also includes conducting bird surveys to ensure that no nesting birds are impacted by restoration activities. Initial removal of non-native tamarisk will continue upstream of Robert's Bottom on river left clearing out ladder fuels and competition from underneath a large cottonwood gallery and around the diverse native shrub understory. These treatments are important management tools to help restore native riparian vegetation as a means of improving fluvial processes, increasing the quality of riparian vegetation for wildlife and livestock, and reducing fire danger. It is estimated work here will be required for at least two more years.

Objectives:

The overall objective of this project is to restore riparian and aquatic habitats along the Dolores River to a more diverse, functional, self-sustaining, and resilient condition. Progress will be assessed based on DRRP's long-term ecological objectives: reducing live tamarisk to less than 5 percent of the vegetation cover; reducing other invasive, non-native plants to less than 15 percent of the vegetation cover; maintaining total vegetation cover equal to or greater than 30 percent; and documenting passive recruitment of native plants towards species-specific thresholds in the riparian corridor. Social and economic objectives also play a role in this project. Hiring local contractors and youth conservation crews are central to on-the-ground work, in order to put money in small rural economies and provide training and skills to youth interested in environmental stewardship.

Threats / Risks:

A variety of threats that have degraded riparian habitat along the Dolores River in Utah will be addressed with this proposed work. Motorized forms of recreation have damaged native plant communities and spread noxious weeds at the Stateline and Roberts Bottom sites. Dense stands of tamarisk have increased fuel loads and, with their deep root systems, altered the sediment transport balance and simplified riverine habitat along vast stretches of the twenty-two miles of the Dolores River's course in eastern Utah. Many of these stretches are also dominated by a suite of invasive, non-native plants that accompany tamarisk, such as Russian knapweed and kochia. By improving the diversity and health of the plant community in the historic floodplain, habitat improvements supporting aquatic species (e.g. better nutrient inputs and increased habitat diversity for desert fish), riparian species (e.g. enhanced cover and food for migrating southwestern willow flycatchers), and upland species (e.g. forbs in the upper river terraces for big-horn sheep) will occur. Currently, the biggest risk is not building on past investments effectively to restore native plant communities to a healthier, increasingly self-sustaining level. In some of the areas proposed within this project, invasive plant densities are yet reduced to a level of low-intensity maintenance; failure to build on past work in these areas in a timely manner will detract from previous restoration efforts and increase costs down the road for improving habitat and reducing fuel loads. Increased intensity and frequency of wildfires is a large risk, in particular, the potential to burn cottonwood galleries, which are critical to riparian health and provide habitat. Based on reduced spring peak flows from upstream diversions and drought, cottonwoods are less-likely to naturally propagate as abundantly as in the past (Coble and Kolb, 2012.) Increased recreational use also increases the potential for accidental human caused fires. As such, it is critical this project protects naturally occurring cottonwoods from catastrophic, ecosystem changing wildfire.

Relation To Management Plan:

(1) The Moab Field Office's Programmatic Invasive Species Management Plan (PISMP) uses an integrated pest management approach to eradicate, contain, control, and prevent targeted weeds within the MFO. The desired goal is to contain or control the spread of invasive species, and eradicate species that pose the greatest threat to the biological diversity within the MFO, and prevent any new weeds from becoming established by utilizing a wide range of treatment options (i.e. mechanical, manual, herbicide, etc.). The resulting pro-active management of these plants would promote the areas ecosystem health and promote diverse native communities by maintaining and improving native forbs and grass species, increasing the regeneration of native cottonwoods and willows in riparian corridors, and ultimately preventing the loss of wildlife habitat, species diversity, and wildfire risk. (2) Moab BLM Resource Management Plan (RMP) prioritizes management of riparian vegetation and emphasizes the control of noxious weeds, prevention of the spread of invasive species, and restoration of vegetated areas. Reduction of tamarisk and restoration of native riparian vegetation addresses management objectives for improving the quality and health of riparian habitats while improving the quality of resources used in recreation and reducing fuels in a manner that decreases the likelihood and severity of wildfires. Specific management decisions in the RMP that are directly related to the primary objectives of the proposed project include RIP-9, which calls for restoring riparian vegetation "through biological, chemical, mechanical, and manual methods (e.g., tamarisk control, willow plantings)," and RIP-16, which calls for implementation of strategies to "restore degraded riparian communities" and "protect natural flow regimes." (3) The project addresses goals and objectives of the BLM Utah Riparian Policy, which states that "riparian areas are to be improved at every opportunity." (4) The Wildlife Action Plan (WAP) for the State of Utah identifies lowland riparian habitat as being highest priority for conservation and restoration. UDWR has designated segments of the Dolores River corridor as "essential habitat" due to its cottonwood gallery, high avian biodiversity, importance as turkey habitat and deer winter range, importance to breeding and overwintering waterfowl, and use by bald eagles and peregrine falcons. Page 58. Improving Condition (of Aquatic-Forested habitat) A good strategy for management may include the following elements: * Promoting policies that maintain or restore natural water and sediment flow regimes. * Promoting policies that reduce inappropriate grazing by domestic livestock and wildlife. * Promoting policies that reduce inappropriate siting of roads in riparian zones. * Promoting policies that reduce inappropriate residential and commercial development in floodplains. * Continuing the use of appropriate methods for reducing the spread and dominance of invasive weeds, including "early detection -- rapid response" programs.] (5) The Range-wide Conservation Agreement and Strategy for Roundtail Chub Gila robusta, Bluehead Sucker Catostomus discobolus, and Flannelmouth Sucker Catostomus latipinnes (UDWR Publication 06-18) includes an objective of enhancing and maintaining habitat for each of the three species. Tamarisk removal and side channel restoration has been an important component of this effort in other parts of Utah. All three of the "three species" are present in the Dolores River. (6) The proposed project supports the goals of DRRP's 2010 Dolores River Riparian Action Plan and 2015 DRRP Transition Plan for Monitoring and Maintenance, which outline restoration goals, objectives, and methods for restoring and managing 175 miles of the Dolores River from McPhee Reservoir in Colorado to the confluence with the Colorado River in Utah. (7) The Utah Mule Deer Statewide Management Plan calls for an emphasis on improving riparian habitat and use of seed mixes that include sufficient forbs and browse species (Habitat Objective 2). (8) Pursuant to the Utah Noxious Weed Act, Section 7, to every person who owns or controls lands in Grand County, Utah, that noxious weeds standing, being, or growing on such land shall be controlled and the spread of same prevented by effective cutting, tillage, cropping, pasturing, or treating with chemicals or other methods, or combination methods, or combination thereof, approved by the County Weed Supervisor, as often as may be required to prevent the weed from blooming and maturing seeds, or spreading by root, root stalks or other means. Listed species that DRRP will manage include hoary cress, tamarisk, Russian knapweed, and Russian olive. (9) Middle Colorado River Watershed Cooperative Weed Management Area Cooperative Agreement - partnering organizations working along the Dolores River work towards the CWMA's goal "to promote an integrated weed management program throughout the MCRW-CWMA that includes public relations, education and training in the non-native invasive weed arena as well as inventory, monitoring, controlling and preventing the spread of non-native invasive weeds, sharing of resources, and designing other desirable resource protection measures relative to weed management." (10) BLM Healthy Lands Initiative: The DRRP project area has been identified as a focal area of this vegetation-resources enhancement initiative to restore and improve the health and productivity of western public lands. The Healthy Lands strategy increases the effectiveness and efficiency of vegetation enhancement treatments by focusing on treatments on a significant percentage of lands -- both Federal and non-Federal -- within six geographic locations, rather than focusing on the local project level. The strategy increases opportunities to leverage cooperative solutions across ownership's and jurisdictions. (11) U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service Utah Partners for Fish and Wildlife Program Strategic Plan: This project falls within a priority area, priority habitat (riparian), and addresses threats to priority species (SWFL and YBCU).

Fire / Fuels:

Establishment of dense stands of dead/dying tamarisk greatly increases the likelihood of destructive wildfires, especially in the vicinity of campsites and other locations of concentrated human activity. A major benefit from this project will be the reduction of unnaturally high fire risk by clearing tamarisk away from cottonwood galleries and campsites and from thinning tamarisk in a manner that creates fire breaks and allows native vegetation to recolonize. Russian knapweed can increase in biomass and ground cover after a fire because of its adaptations to disturbance and knapweed growing points are below ground. A wildfire in this area without treatment would further spread noxious knapweed.

Water Quality/Quantity:

Municipalities downstream of the Dolores River, namely Moab, Utah, may benefit from decreased salinity inputs and increased filtration via a healthier riparian habitat. Large-scale tamarisk removal has the potential to improve water quality by reducing the salinity-concentrating effects of tamarisk infestations on Dolores River riparian habitats. Tamarisk removal techniques have been adapted, over several years of experience, to minimize soil disturbance and protect water quality. Further, improving floodplain connectivity helps remove sediment and pathogens, increases allochthonous nutrients that stimulate natural nitrogen and phosphorus cycling (Wolf et al. 2012), Installation and fostering of native-species container plants and pole cuttings will further stabilize river banks and riparian soils. And, since tamarisk and Russian knapweed have high rates of evapotranspiration, the long-term conversion to (mesic) native vegetation on Dolores River floodplains will yield water quantity savings in the river. Removal of tamarisk and Russian olive has been linked to saving water and over time water quality increases (Shafroth et al. 2009).

Compliance:

A Determination of NEPA Adequacy (DNA) is completed and is tiered to the BLM Moab Field Office Programmatic Invasive Species Management Plan (2016) and will conform to its stipulations and restrictions. Consultation with BLM archaeologists has already occurred. The BLM Moab Pesticide Use Plan has also been approved for the Dolores. ESA Section 7 Consultation occurred with the USFWS and wildlife surveys will be conducted prior to any spring work or work will commence after nesting season. An EA will be prepared for the prescribed grazing component but NEPA has been completed for all other actions associated with this proposal.

Methods:

Sites have been selected based on DRRP's prioritization criteria that consider ecological, social, and feasibility factors. The methods outlined below are organized from upstream to downstream.

STATELINE (Vehicle Accessible): Cottonwood Gallery Across from the Berm Site (River Right): 1.2 acres of initial tamarisk removal from underneath and adjacent to a large cottonwood gallery was completed in the fall of 2019 under the Dolores 3.0 project and another 3.1 acres was completed in 2020 under Dolores 4.0. Re-sprouts and additional removal of tamarisk was completed on 82.5 acres in 2020/21 under the Dolores 4.0 project. Additional work is required to finish removing roughly 2 acres of dense tamarisk and dispersed Russian olive in order to reduce competition and eliminate ladder fuels. Removal is conducted by Conservation Corps crews using a cut-stump method. After cutting tamarisk trees with chainsaws, crews apply herbicide (Triclopyr, Glyphosate) to the freshly cut tamarisk stumps during the fall (September - early November) of 2021. Areas underneath cottonwood galleries are treated with 100% removal. To protect previous investments, any resprouts from previous work will be treated with a basal bark/foiar treatment. For more detailed information please reference the statement of work and map associated with this site in the Documents/Images tab. Cottonwood cuttings will be taken from above Robert's Bottom in 2021 and planted at this site in open areas in order to help facilitate re-growth. There are a few areas that do not have any mature native trees. therefore this will assist in the restoration of this site. Additionally, native seed will be broadcast here over 4 acres. As noted in the 4.0 and 5.0 report, Southwest Willow Flycatcher (or another willow flycatcher) was observed at this site in early 2021, which makes habitat restoration here a priority for project partners.

BERM SITE (River Left): The upstream end of the gravel berm was removed in February of 2019 and water flowed through the historic channel. The flowpath was cleared of tamarisk and Russian olive in previous project phases to allow for improved hydrological function when reconnected. This site now has a functioning side channel with cottonwood regeneration, sedges and rush colonization, and utilization by red-spotted and woodhouse toads, fish, beaver, bear, and mountain lion. In March, 2020 15 gross acres of Russian olive re-sprouts were treated by the DRRP strike team. Future work at and around this site consists of the removal/re-treatment of Russian olive trees as needed, using a cut-stump/lop and scatter method. Removal of these few trees is important to eliminate Russian olive at this site and protect the previous investments from future invasion. Russian olive will also be spot treated in and around this site. For more detailed information please reference the statement of work and map associated with this site in the Documents/Images tab.

BEAVER CREEK to RIO MESA REACH & CONTINGENCY UNITS (Raft-Accessible): In the Beaver Creek to Rio Mesa reach (river mile 155-160), 2 sites have been prioritized for initial removal efforts (8.4 acres) and four sites from 2018/2019 will be evaluated and treated for resprouts (9.3 acres). Removal is conducted by Conservation Corps crews using a cut-stump method. After cutting tamarisk trees with chainsaws, crews apply herbicide (Triclopyr or Glyphosate) to the freshly cut tamarisk stumps during the fall (September - early November) of 2021. To protect previous investments, any resprouts from previous work will be treated with a basal bark/foiar treatment. These sites can only be accessed by raft during high water which coincides with the presence of Southwestern Willow Flycatcher. Similar to our 2017 (Dolores 1.0) and 2019 (Dolores 3.0) campaign, a bird biologist will need to assess bird occupancy ahead of the raft crews. Three "contingency" units have been identified in the Rio Mesa to the Colorado River Confluence reach between river mile 163-165. If the upstream raft units can't be treated because of the presence of SWFL then work will be initiated on these sites. A raft trip was not possible under the Dolores 3.0 project in the spring of 2020 due to very low flows. A mosaic treatment approach consisting of the removal of 30-50% of the tamarisk biomass is applied in monotypic tamarisk stands. The mosaic treatment of tamarisk will be implemented as a way of reducing tamarisk density while maintaining the degree of soil stability and partially shaded micro-climates necessary to provide conditions beneficial to riparian wildlife and native plants. This strategy, which incorporates the presence of the tamarisk-leaf beetle (a biological control agent), is expected to reduce tamarisk densities in a manner that allows native trees, shrubs, perennial grasses, and herbaceous vegetation to become reestablished. Results from a 2010-2014 DRRP pilot study conducted upriver in the Uncompahgre BLM Field office support using this site-specific integrated-pest management strategy.

ROBERT'S BOTTOM & UPSTREAM COTTONWOOD GALLERY (River Right): In an effort to integrate more tools into the Integrated Pest Management (IPM) toolbox for addressing herbaceous weeds, this proposal intends to utilize prescribed grazing with goats to address Kochia and knapweed infestations at Robert's Bottom and at the cottonwood gallery just upstream (100 acres). Using goats as a biological control for weed infestations has many potential environmental and economic benefits including being safer than herbicide, benefitting local goat farmers, and cutting-back native shrubs. Goats are also much easier to control than other biological agents. Goats will be applied when knapweed infestations are "in bloom" to reduce seedhead production. Native seed will be applied prior to the treatment to allow hoof activity to work the seeds into the soil. 2.2 acres of woody invasive removal was completed at the cottonwood gallery upstream of Robert's Bottom in 2019, 1.1 acres in 2020 and 2.15 in 2021. Additional work is required to finish removing the 10.2 acres of tamarisk and Russian olive in order to reduce competition and eliminate ladder fuels. Removal is conducted by Conservation Corps crews using a cut-stump method. After cutting tamarisk trees with chainsaws, crews apply herbicide (Triclopyr or Glyphosate) to the freshly cut tamarisk stumps during the fall (September - early November) of 2020. Areas underneath cottonwood galleries are treated with 100% removal. To protect previous investments, any re-sprouts from previous work will be treated with a basal bark/foliar treatment. For more detailed information please reference the statement of work and map associated with this site in the Documents/Images tab.

LAKE BOTTOM (River Right) Across from Robert's Bottom, Lake Bottom is 9.9 acres of private land. Secondary weeds have been treated in 2018, and in 2019 by the landowner. An additional 1 acre of tamarisk re-sprouts was treated in 2020 under 4.0. The main project goal is to remove any initial stands of tamarisk and re-treat re-growth areas that have been previously treated as well as continue to treat secondary weeds. If any Russian olive is present that will also be eradicated. Prioritization is given to areas underneath and surrounding native vegetation, specifically Fremont cottonwood. When cleaning beetle-infested tamarisk, a mosaic method is used in order to leave shade to assist passive recruitment of native species. Primarily, treatments will be a mixture of basal bark for small tamarisk-re-growth, and cut-stump or frill cut method for larger tamarisk or Russian olive trees. These treatments will protect native plant restoration through decreased competition, protect native plants from fire risk, promote passive restoration through decreased competition, and slow the growth of tamarisk and Russian olive.

OTHER INFORMATION: Seeding will be conducted in targeted sites (e.g., where there is bare soil, in tamarisk slash piles, and in kochia infestations) to impede re-encroachment of invasive plants as well as to improve forage for livestock and habitat for wildlife. Species have been selected based on successes of previous re-vegetation efforts along the Dolores River and on recommendations from UT-DWR during last year's WRI comment period. Active re-vegetation (e.g., species, micro-site selection, & planting methods) will be conducted at certain sites to address specific restoration objectives and based on lessons learned and shared during past DRRP Implementation Committee meetings.

Monitoring:

Coordinated by the DRRP Coordinators and BLM employees, long-term monitoring of vegetation/riparian condition (rapid monitoring protocol), and breeding birds will be conducted at treatment sites to assess the effectiveness of the treatments and to guide future management efforts. BLM staff will be onsite at the beginning, during critical stages of the project, and near completion to ensure desirable results. Partners will be invited to do onsite visits as well to ensure increased input and share concerns. Data gathered will be available to upload into the WRI database for future analysis and review. Rapid Monitoring was developed specifically for the needs of the DRRP and includes the collection of non-native/native cover-class data, tamarisk cover, noxious weed invasions, presence of the tamarisk leaf beetle, wildlife presence, passive recruitment of native vegetation, and photos to document progress. Annually, this data is used to inform future management actions, track the effectiveness of various treatment methods, and engage various partners. Rapid monitoring of treatment sites accessible by vehicle was conducted in the Summer of 2020 and the Summer of 2021. No DRRP monitoring is planned until 2023. Please find the reports and photo point presentations in the images and documents section. The Southwest Conservation Corps (SCC) recruits and selects two-person roving teams to conduct vegetation and weed monitoring utilizing Collector for ArcGIS on tablets. This team also compiles monitoring and photo-point reports at the end of the monitoring season for BLM land managers. Training and oversight are co-managed between SCC and RiversEdge West. Partners from UT Division of Wildlife Resources and Colorado Parks and Wildlife will monitor the use of side-channel habitat by native fish species to evaluate success towards creating backwater habitat for juvenile fish, while partners from Bird Conservancy of the Rockies will continue long-term monitoring of how restoration work impacts avian communities via the Integrated Monitoring in Bird Conservation Regions program. The Grand County Weed Department completed the first season of quantitative pre-treatment (prescribed grazing) monitoring using a subset of the BLM Terrestrial AIM protocol at Robert's Bottom. Methods include line-point intercept cover and cottonwood belt density. The BLM Lentic AIM crew collected quantitative data on BLM in 2020 at the site upstream from Robert's Bottom and at Lake Bottom on BLM. Lentic protocols include soil pit verification, line point intercept cover, vegetation height, and species richness. Additional, sites may be located within other project areas, budget permitting. Partners from the Grand County Weed Department will implement the phenological monitoring in the spring of 2020 (in-kind funds) at Robert's Bottom to determine the best window to implement the prescribed grazing in 2021. GCWD will also monitor pre- and post-treatment conditions following the prescribed grazing treatment.

Partners:

In 2015, thirty local, state, federal, and private organizations signed a five-year memorandum of understanding (MOU) committing to protecting and building on shared investments in the collaborative restoration of the Dolores River through 2020. The Dolores River Restoration Partnership (DRRP) promotes riparian restoration along almost 200 miles of the river corridor, monitors progress, and coordinates with numerous other conservation activities in the watershed. Nine of these partners play active roles in the project: RiversEdge West (formerly Tamarisk Coalition): as chair of the DRRP Implementation Subcommittee and DRRP Science and Monitoring Subcommittee, this non-profit organization works with partners to plan, execute, and monitor restoration work across public and private boundaries throughout the partnership's project area. Grand County Weed Department: this local agency conducts re-treatments of tamarisk and herbaceous weeds, monitoring work, as well as provides technical assistance (e.g., sharing findings from biological control monitoring) to inform restoration work. University of Utah Rio Mesa Center: the University works with student groups to foster education, research, stewardship, and restoration along the Center's portion of the Dolores River in the Utah Bottoms. Utah Division of Wildlife Resources: this state agency provides technical assistance to DRRP (e.g., surveying for side-channel revitalization project) and monitors the avian community along the Utah-portion of the Dolores River to increase understanding of how restoration affects bird species. US Fish and Wildlife Service Partners for Fish and Wildlife Program: this federal program coordinates with a significant private landowner at Lake Bottom, supports the Rio Mesa Center, and provides technical support that informs DRRP restoration strategies. Canyon Country Youth Corps: a program of the Four Corners School of Outdoor Education, CCYC hires and trains young adults to implement restoration work, including installation and repair of fencing, tamarisk control, and active revegetation of native plant species along the Dolores River in Utah. Conservation Legacy's Southwest Conservation Corps (SCC): working with CCYC and Western Colorado Conservation Corps, SCC hires and trains young adults to implement restoration work, including tamarisk control, active revegetation of native plant species, and monitoring of restoration projects. SCC's Watershed Programs Coordinator also helps with planning and field support for crews. Western Colorado Conservation Corps: working with the other two Corps programs, this non-profit organization hires and trains young adults to implement restoration work, including tamarisk control and treatment of Russian knapweed and hoary cress. National Wild Turkey Federation: has provided funding and in-kind support to foster stewardship and active re-vegetation along the Dolores River. While the Moab BLM is submitting this WRI proposal, it is worth noting that three other BLM field offices (Tres Rios, Uncompahgre, and Grand Junction in CO), two-state BLM offices (UT & CO), two district BLM offices (UT-Canyon Country & CO-Northwest), and the national office are all engaged partners, providing in-kind and/or financial support towards achieving the DRRP's shared ecological, social, economic, and management goals.

Future Management:

The project is part of a multi-year effort that will involve follow-up monitoring, active re-vegetation, and treatments to control remaining infestations of priority non-native, invasive plant species such as tamarisk, Russian olive, Russian knapweed, kochia, and hoary cress. Some temporary fence has already been constructed along the Dolores River where knapweed is common to assist with the treatment areas to lessen livestock presence while native plants establish. The long-term goal is to restore riparian and floodplain habitats along the lower Dolores River in a manner that creates diverse riparian communities comprised primarily of native plant species as a means of improving the condition and resiliency of riparian and aquatic habitats. This will require an adaptive management approach. Long-term, adaptive management strategies have been outlined in the DRRP Transition Plan for Long-Term Monitoring & Maintenance. A 2015, MOU signed by thirty partners affirms their commitment towards implementing the Transition Plan to build on seven years of restoration work to achieve a shared set of ecological, social, economic, and management goals through 2020. A subsequent MOU is currently being signed by partners; reaffirming the importance of the DRRP for another five years. The DRRP has continuously served as a nucleus for information, on-the-ground work, and by garnering additional funding. The private landowner in Lake Bottom has been working with the USFWS Partners Program for the last few years and currently has an agreement to manage and maintain the project area in a manner that benefits wildlife habitats. This agreement is for 10 years and under that agreement, USFWS will monitor the project annually and work with the landowner to ensure project success. Currently, the Lake Bottom property is not used for livestock grazing. Under the USFWS agreement, the landowner has agreed that if in the future livestock will be used on the property that they will work with USFWS and other partners on a grazing plan.

Sustainable Uses of Natural Resources:

The removal of tamarisk, Russian knapweed, and other invasive vegetation species will allow multiple uses of the Dolores River and the surrounding landscape to be more sustainable for generations to come. Collectively, the actions in this project coupled with projects upstream in Colorado will make the Dolores a more resilient system in the long-term. This project will greatly benefit the riparian ecosystem, desert fish, birds, improve recreation, water quality, agriculture, and many other uses. The removal of tamarisk and Russian knapweed is expected to greatly benefit domestic livestock in three ways: First, it will facilitate the re-establishment of perennial grasses, native forbs, and shrubs that have much higher forage value than tamarisk. Past knapweed treatments upstream from the project area have led to the rapid re-establishment of perennial grasses, even in the absence of seeding. However, targeted broadcast seeding will be used to accelerate the recolonization of native grasses in selected areas where native grasses are sparse in habitat adjacent to the treatment site. Second, control of tamarisk can make managing livestock easier. Previously dense stands of tamarisk that have either been removed or thinned (depending on site-conditions) increases access for ranchers to monitor and manage cattle on public allotments. Therefore, grazing and animal distribution will increase since more riverbank is accessible for watering livestock and wildlife. Finally, since greater access to the river is available following tamarisk removal, it leads to less stress on previous riparian areas hammered with livestock watering. Third, Russian knapweed is known to be toxic to horses, potentially causing facial paralysis, malnutrition, dehydration, and necrosis (USDA Agr Info Bulletin Number 415). Controlling this noxious weed will reduce the potential for these and other livestock health issues. The private landowner in Lake Bottom has been resting the property but has had discussions with partners that if goals are met they would potentially like to discuss a holistic grazing strategy.

Under yellow-billed cuckoo, SWFL, and northern leopard frog, you identified that a threat that will be addressed by this project is data gaps. Your monitoring section mentions surveying for breeding birds; will there be specific surveys for those species?

Hi Makeda - Yes, there is a line item for bird surveys to get clearance for high water raft-based work that occurs during breeding and nesting for SWFL and Cuckoo. We have several years of data that when water levels have been adequate. Leopard frog and bullfrog observations are noted at restoration sites as well as eDNA samples that are taken outside of WRI. Do you think that will suffice?

I move to adopt the ordinance approving the Amended Planned Unit Development (PUD) Master Plan for the Arroyo Crossing Planned Unit Development (PUD).

STAFF RECOMMENDATION: APPROVE
Applicant has met all requirements of LUC section 4.4

PLANNING COMMISSION RECOMMENDATION APPROVE
On June 13th, 2022 the Planning Commission voted unanimously to send a favorable recommendation to the County Commission for approval of the Arroyo Crossing, Amended PUD Master Plan.

BACKGROUND:
On May 17th, 2016, via Ordinance No. 550, Grand County Council approved a rezone of the property from large lot resident (LLR) to multi-family residential (MFR-8), a conceptual master plan (Original Master Plan), and a Development Agreement Establishing an Affordable Housing Set-Aside (Original Development Agreement)

On October 15th, 2019, via Ordinance No. 600, County Council approved the Arroyo Crossing Planned Unit Development (PUD) Overlay, the Arroyo Crossing PUD Master Plan dated August 5th, 2019 and the Development Agreement Establishing an Affordable Housing Set-Aside.

On October 15th, 2019 via Resolution No. 3188, Phase I, Final Plat was approved for the Arroyo Crossing Development.

The Phase I Final Plat did not designate the Affordable Housing Units as required by the approved Development Agreement. Thus, on June 15, 2021, the County Commission adopted Resolution No. 3279 approving the Correction Plat and First Amendment to Development Agreement for Arroyo Crossing, Phase I, designating the Affordable Housing Units in

Phase I by number and amending Sections 2 & 7 of the Development Agreement to make administration of the Project consistent with the LUC and those development agreements governing other affordable housing projects in the County

After such time, and due to discussions between the Planning Department & the Moab Area Community Land Trust (MACLT), PZ has determined that the Master Plan as approved lacks clarity in two areas: setback requirements for the “townhome” dwelling type, and consistency in defining housing types (townhomes versus duplexes) and associated setback requirements for each as shown on the Master Plan. The proposed amendment does not affect density as the Master Plan allows for 52 townhomes and 44 duplexes.

Because of these inconsistencies, MACLT is seeking approval of a “Amended PUD Master Plan” which will rectify these issues in 2 ways:

1. The Arroyo Crossing PUD Master plan shall be modified and amended to describe the following development: 3 Community Facilities, 116 Apartments, 24 Cottages, 96 Townhomes, and 64 Single Family units.
2. The Arroyo Crossing PUD Master Plan shall be modified and amended to include front, street, side, and rear setbacks for townhome units. These proposed 10’ setbacks are consistent with LUC section 5.4.1.A. related to the MFR underlying zoning district.

Grand County Land Use Code Article 5 Defines Townhomes as: Two or more attached dwelling units located on separately owned lots.

As such, previously defined “Duplexes” on the Master Plan will now be identified as “Townhomes”. These changes will not affect the previously approved density, it only clarifies that the attached homes will each sit on their own respective lot, as opposed to duplexes, which share one lot.

SUMMARY OF REQUEST

The current Master Plan for the Arroyo Crossing Planned Unit Development lacked clarity in two ways; making development of several lots within the plan very challenging.

1. The recorded Master Plan failed to define setback requirements for the "Townhome" dwelling type.
2. The structures that are currently defined as duplexes on the Master Plan are in fact intended to be developed as townhomes, on individual lots, as defined by the LUC.

Grand County Land Use Code Article 5 Defines Townhomes as: “Two or more attached dwelling units located on separately owned lots”. The LUC defines “Duplex” as “Two attached dwelling units in a single structure on a single lot”

As such, previously defined “Duplexes” on the Master Plan and in the Development Agreement will now be identified as the “Townhome” dwelling type.

Because of these inconsistencies, MACLT is seeking approval of a an Amended PUD Master Plan which will rectify these issues in 2 ways:

1. The Arroyo Crossing PUD Master plan shall be modified and amended to propose the following development: 3 Community Facilities, 116 Apartments, 24 Cottages, 96 Townhomes (previously: 52 Townhomes and 44 Duplexes), and 64 Single Family units.
2. The Arroyo Crossing PUD Master Plan shall be modified and amended to include front, street, side, and rear setbacks for townhome units.

SITE IMPROVEMENTS / ADDITIONS / CHANGES

No site improvements will be made as a result of this amendment.

CONSIDERATIONS FOR APPROVAL / DENIAL / OR POSTPONEMENT

Planning Commission Recommendation: Approve

On June 13th, 2022, the Planning Commission voted unanimously to send a favorable recommendation to the County Commission for approval of the Arroyo Crossing Amended PUD Master Plan and associated Development Agreement

Consistency with General Plan

The proposed PUD Master Plan amendment is for a Planned Unit Development, which is not specifically mentioned in the General Plan, but as the County Commission (then Council) adopted the approving ordinance for the original Development Agreement and associated Master Plan, it is assumed to be supported by a General Plan update.

Conformance with Grand County Land Use Code (LUC)

The proposed Amended Master Plant is in conformance with LUC provisions of Article 4.4 PUD, Planned Unit Development Overlay Districts in the following ways:

- a) The development is consistent with Section 4.4.7 Density: Maximum density shall be no greater than that permitted in the underlying zone district prior to -PUD approval, unless the project meets the requirements for affordable housing density bonus incentives (in accordance with Section 4.4.8) or opens space density bonus incentives (in accordance with Section 4.4.10)

The Arroyo Crossing PUD allows for 300 units on 38.69 acres, which is roughly a net density of one unit per/0.12 acre, an increase in the underlying density which was granted based on the provision of an affordable housing set aside.

- b) Consistency with Article 10 Definitions in regard to the term “Townhome”

Arroyo Crossing PUD Amendment – Proposal Narrative

May 31, 2022

The Moab Area Community Land Trust (“MACLT”) is proposing an amendment to its Arroyo Crossing PUD Development Master Plan (or sometimes referred to as the “Master Plan”) to incorporate necessary modifications.

The Arroyo Crossing PUD Master Plan was approved by the Grand County Commission on August 6, 2019 and included the following development typologies at Arroyo Crossing:

- 3 Community Facilities
- 116 Apartments
- 24 Cottages
- 52 Townhomes
- 44 Duplexes
- 64 Single-Family

MACLT proposes combining the “duplex” and “townhome” housing types within the legend on the Master Plan as none of the units within the development are intended to be ‘duplexes’ as defined in the Grand County Land Use Code. They are in fact townhomes. As such, there will now be 96 “townhomes”.

Additionally, the approved Master Plan outlines setback requirements for single-family, multi-family, and non-residential units but does not include specific setbacks for townhomes. Currently, these unit types must use the single-family residence setbacks because the units will be on individual, subdivided lots, but since the townhome lots are smaller than those which are single-family on the approved Master Plan, some of the currently approved “duplex” lots are too small to be deemed useable.

Therefore, MACLT is proposing to correct and clarify the intended use and associated regulations with these unit types.

MACLT proposes the addition of the following Townhome Residence setbacks to the Master Plan, which are similar to the approved Multi-Family Residence setbacks:

- Minimum Front and Street Side Yard – 10ft
- Minimum Interior Side Yard – 10ft
- Minimum Rear Yard – 10ft

Setbacks:
 Multi-Family Residence (Apartments & Cottages):
 Min. Front & Street Side Yard = 10'
 Min. Interior Side Yard = 20'

 Min. Rear Yard = 10'

 Min. Front & Street Side Yard = 20'
 Min. Interior Side Yard = 10'
